Stepdad accused of torture

Chiltern Heights teenager claims he was handcuffed, beaten, burnt, starved and sexually abused

Explosive allegations of abuse, similar to that which was documented in the 'Baby Jamie' case, has rocked the community after a 15-year-old boy who ran away from his home was found severely malnourished and with serious injuries by family members, last week.

Appalling details of physical abuse, torture, starvation, emotional abuse and neglect was revealed by the boy to his father and doctors, who treated him on Thursday after he ran away from his home in Chiltern Heights.

The boy allegedly told his father that his stepdad repeatedly beat him up and tortured him.

The teenager further claimed his stepfather handcuffed him and used a second set of handcuffs to suspend him to the burglar guard before beating him up.

He claimed that his stepfather would handcuff him, bind his legs together with tape and hit him with a wooden stick. On one occasion, he alleged that his stepfather twisted his penis until it bled. He also claimed that whenever his mother and stepfather left the house, he was left naked in the bathroom with his hands cuffed and his legs bound together with tape.

Another shocking allegation by the boy was that his stepfather used a blowtorch and heated a spoon with it and used the spoon to burn his tongue.

Communications officer of the eThekweni Inner South Cluster, Cpt Cheryl Pillay, said according

The 15-year-old boy who was found malnourished and traumatised. His face has been blurred to protect his identity as he is a minor.

The young victim's hands were bruised and severely injured after he was handcuffed on several occasions.

to reports at Chatsworth SAPS, it is alleged that a 15-year-old child was assaulted by his stepfather.

"Due to the sensitivity of this case, no further information can be divulged. Police have prioritised this investigation and are engaging with relevant role-players to ensure the safety of the child," she added.

Speaking to journalists in an exclusive interview, the boy's father, who had not seen his son in two years, said he and his wife divorced five years ago and his two children, the boy and his nine-year-old daughter, lived in the custody of their mother and her second husband.

"My son was not allowed to see me after he lied in court that I attempted to murder him. When the court granted me visitation rights, I went to pick the children up and they refused to leave with me so I stayed away from them. It broke my heart but I knew that they were being threatened into not allowing me to see them but I did not expect the abuse to be physical until I saw my son the other day," said the emotional father.

He said his son ran away and didn't run to him because he felt bad about lying in court.

"I cannot believe what goes through an adult's mind when they hurt innocent children. To hear that this happened to my own child and I could not protect him, breaks my heart. He told me that most of the abuse happened in front of his mother and little sister. I fear for the safety of my daughter, who is still in their custody. I pray that the authorities work fast in getting her out of the house before she is harmed any further. My son told me that she also was subjected to physical abuse recently but it was just the beginning for her," said the boy's father.

He added that doctors treated his son for injuries to the hip, head, knees, head, buttocks and eyes and he was also treated for malnutrition.

The boy was then referred to RK Khan Hospital for x-rays and further treatment.

He claimed he has not been enrolled in school this year and was forced to stay at home while his sister was sent to school.

The father added that the relevant authorities are in the process of removing the other child from the custody of her mother and stepfather.

TRO's Chuckie to release last album

After releasing about 25 tracks and collaborating with some of South Africa's finest musicians, 39-year-old Daniel Jooste, famously known as Chuckie from the group, TRO, has announced that he will be releasing his last album in a few months.

The father of one said he will still do live performances, however, he will not be making any more music after the release of his last album which will be titled 'Chuckie'.

"I started making music from the age of 16 and my son is now seven-years-old so my decision to retire from making music is solely based on family life and giving my family the undivided attention that they deserve," he said.

The former Newlands East musician, who now resides in Kingsburgh, entertained thousands of fans from around the world in the last 23 years. He works as a financial planner and enjoys fine dining with his family. Made famous by music which he released with The Real Ones (TRO) and East Coast Flavour, Jooste agreed with his fans that the one song that will live on forever is the track, 'Hey Ouens', which he released with

TRO. "The 'Hey Ouens' track was not one that was written or planned. We were in studio and there was still about 45 minutes left so the producer played a beat and asked us to freestyle. Not many of our fans know that that song was done in 30 minutes and it was not pre-written," he said.

He added, "Our fans still flock to our live performances and we don't want to rob them of the opportunity to see their favourite songs being performed live. 'Hey Ouens' went onto becoming one of our biggest hits." Jooste said fans can look forward to a versatile album which will include R&B, hip hop, bruin funk and Kwaito.

"I want to give my fans something to remember. I want to also use this final album to thank my fans and people who were instrumental role-players in my career for their support. Almost every song on the album will have a feature and I am very excited about the album and the release," he said.

Woman arrested with drugs worth R10, 000 in Westcliff

A 30-year-old woman was apprehended after she was allegedly found in possession of 800 heroin capsules, worth an estimated R10, 000, in Grimby Avenue, Westcliff on Monday. According to communications officer of the eThekweni Inner South cluster, Cpt Cheryl Pillay, the eThekweni Inner South Cluster Crime Combating Unit received information regarding illicit drug activities in Westcliff. "Police officers proceeded to Grimby Avenue in Westcliff where they conducted observations before arresting the 30-year-old suspect. Police seized 800 capsules of heroin with an estimated street value of R10, 000. The seized drugs will be forwarded for forensic analysis," said Cpt Pillay.

The heroin capsules which were seized by police officers.

The suspect will appear in the Chatsworth Magistrate's Court soon. Acting cluster commander of eThekweni Inner South cluster, Maj Gen Mandlenkosi Chirwa applauded the swift action taken by the police officers. "I want to express my gratitude towards the community who are working in partnership with the police. Police have adopted a zero-tolerance approach to the proliferation of drugs in society. The use of drugs is a generator towards other crimes," he said. To report any illicit drug activity, contact the EIS Operational Command Centre commander, Col Trevor Small on 079-889-9613. Alternatively, contact Crime Stop on 08600-10111. Meanwhile, Operation Fiela kicked off in the eThekweni Inner South cluster where the operational commander, Maj Gen Mandlenkosi Chirwa, paraded more than

265 police officers within the Wentworth and Mariannhill policing precincts with the main objective of creating a safe and secure environment for society. Cpt Cheryl Pillay said, "Operation Fiela focuses on drugs, illegal firearms, aggravated robberies, counterfeit goods and hijackings. Police were successful in apprehending suspects for offences such as possession of unlicensed firearms, possession of ammunition and possession of drugs. Wanted suspects, who were sought by police, were also arrested."

Maj Gen Chirwa, said that the objective of Operation Fiela is to maintain law, order, peace and security as well as reclaim the space occupied by criminals. He applauded the efforts made by concerned community members to address the proliferation of drugs in the community. "It is through this partnership that police were able to co-ordinate intelligence-driven operations resulting in the arrests of suspects as well as seizure of illicit drugs," he said. The EIS Crime Combating Unit also recently received information of illicit drug activity at a known drug den at Stork Place in Bayview. During two operations, police officers found 64 capsules of heroin and 13 pieces of rock cocaine abandoned outside a flat in Stork Place. "Our police officers will leave no stone unturned in dealing with those who are dealing in drugs. We will act strongly against drug dealers and drug dens in our communities in order to clamp down on illicit drugs," he said. Police require adequate crime information in respect of illicit drug activity, not only for an effective investigation but for the prosecution of organised crime syndicates. The abuse of narcotics also generates higher levels of criminality and violence. Chatsworth SAPS is appealing to residents to blow the whistle on alleged drug dealing in Chatsworth. Police have established an informer network which guarantees anonymity to whistle blowers. Residents can contact Col Trevor Small on 031 451-4372 or 079-889-9602 to report illicit drug activity. Police also encourage youngsters to join the police in the fight against crime. Programmes are conducted at schools to build confidence and provide ammunition to deal with victimisation. These programmes aim to eventually create new relations between the youth and facilitate the administration of justice. They encourage residents to attend regular meetings in the various suburbs and together identify crime-related problems and find solutions to eradicate drugs in the community.

Former teacher and welfare worker, Kamapersaad Sitaram (81) launched his first book, Esperanza, recently. The book is a fictitious story depicting the emergence of Indian family life after the period of indenture on sugar cane plantations on the north and coasts of KwaZulu-Natal. Esperanza is situated on the South Coast near the town of Umzinto. The story was inspired by the author's interaction with the descendants of the original Indian indentured laborers, who had been recruited to work on large sugar estates in the nearby areas of the town. While teaching at Umzinto Secondary School, among his pupils, were those who lived in the nearby village of Esperanza. Sitaram said that the book has been in his thoughts for some time. The former teacher and welfare worker's family were farmers, who settled on their own farm which they purchased after their period of indenture in the Natal Midlands. He is now retired and devotes his time to writing and as a volunteer in organisations established to provide services to disadvantaged sectors of the community. He taught at Umzinto Secondary School for two years and was the CEO at the Aryan Benevolent Home for 20 years. He also took on the position of struggle stalwart and judge, Zak Yacoob's reader for four months. While doing this job, he met former president, Nelson Mandela in Johannesburg. The stalwart of ABH praised the new board for their tireless efforts and keeping the flag high. Sitaram said the reason why he got involved in welfare was because his father was a community leader so he followed in his footsteps. He said his mentor was his father. He is formerly from Chatsworth, moved to Isipingo and is currently living in La Lucia now. When asked where he sees the country going from here, he said, "I am a staunch ANC member. A long time ago, we had dreams for the country and we were very united. I believe in the last ten years, the country went downhill. Hopefully Kamapersaad Sitaram displays his first book, which was launched recently.

Priest denounces sale of Hindu temple

Vishnu Hariduth Maharaj, the son of the late pundit, HR Maharaj said that the sale of the historic Shri Luxmi Narayan Temple in Mobeni Heights is not only heartbreaking and reckless but will be selling a part of a rich history spanning more than ten decades.

Maharaj, a Hindu priest, who had taken over the reins from his late father who was a renowned spiritual head of the temple said, "We need to mobilize our Hindu community and galvanise support so that this temple will not fall into the wrong hands. Only after a few murmurings in the community and the announcement in the newspaper, I have learnt that the Shri Luxmi Narayan Temple is up for sale. This is totally irresponsible on the part of the temple executive. We will not stand by and let the temple be sold."

For this reason, a public meeting is being called on Saturday, March 3 at 2pm at the Mobeni Heights Civic Centre to stop the sale of the temple. Established in 1916, the Luxmi Narayan Temple was the fifth Hindu temple built in Durban, following the establishment of the privately built Isipingo Mariammen Temple, the Shri Marriaman Temple in Mount Edgecombe, the Ganesha Temple in Phoenix and the Shree Soobramaniar Temple in Clairwood. However, the Sri Luxmi Narayan Temple became a symbol of Indian resilience against the destructive Apartheid regime and its determination to destroy Indian areas and to weaken Indian solidarity. Clairwood was a politically robust enclave, with strong Natal Indian Congress activism. The community was strengthened by the many institutions that progressively ensured solidarity and co-operation. The three temples, the mosques, the community halls, the vernacular schools, cultural and social clubs embedded community values and social cohesion. Their strength was evident in the large number of non-government schools the community built, including the Shri Luxmi Narayan Primary School. Political meetings, community support groups and regular debates between social clubs explored concerns and problems of the community and South Africa. A large number of sports clubs provided sporting fixtures with regular soccer and cricket matches played at the SCIDIFA ground and schools yards. The vibrancy and warmth of youth and adults interactions were exceptional. The council then devised its most heinous plan. Legally, private properties may be expropriated for the construction of essential services such as schools, hospitals and roads. A property owner has no legal recourse against expropriation with minimum compensation under such circumstances. The Durban Corporation decided to construct the Southern Freeway—the M4. They designed the road to cut across Clairwood, splitting it into two. Schools, businesses, homes and roads all fell under the destructive might of the road builders. The Luxmi Narayan Temple and its six-classroom school was the first victim. Residents affected by the new freeway had to find alternate places to build with the pittance that was paid in compensation. Many moved into council houses in Chatsworth and those who were able rebuilt their lives in the new townships. The destruction of Clairwood was followed rapidly by the expropriation of Indian homes in Riverside, Mayville, Stellahill and Umkomaan (Cato Manor). Other Indian areas were also expropriated. Without doubt, the Group Areas Act was intended mainly to disempower and break the solidarity of politically, culturally and economically astute Indians.

However, Indian culture and community spirit provided resilience and the strength to rebuild their lives in different locations. Mobeni Heights became one such symbol of resilience with Luxmi Narayan Temple as its flagship. The temple was relocated amid much fanfare and celebration as it cocked a snook at the apartheid regime and the racist Durban city council. Indians could rebuild their lives and restore their institutions and pick up from where they had been forcibly removed.

Today, Chatsworth and Phoenix are among the largest settlements in South Africa. They are a testament to the cultural, religious and social cohesion that cannot be suppressed.

HB Singh, community leader and educationalist said, "Given this show of courage, strength and community values, dare we now disown the heritage and the struggles during the apartheid years? Dare we dispose of the historic symbols of our determination and resilience? Those who dare to destroy what has been built through sweat and tears are either insensitive to the history of our struggles or remain unaware of our historic disadvantages which were overcome by community endeavor and the belief in ourselves and our faith in the divine. We cannot permit the destruction of our heritage, our symbols and our monuments. Our places of worship remain sacrosanct as do our institutions."

Nomfuno Ncwane has been missing since February 5, 2018.

Mr and Mrs Debpershad on the day of their union.

The charming couple, who recently celebrated 50 years of love and joy.

Love at first sight for Montford couple

When Dudley Ishwarlall Debpershad caught a glimpse of Lalitha's beauty while in a grocery store years ago, he was instantly drawn to her and knew that she was made for him. This year, the loving pair celebrated 50 years of marital bliss and happiness with their family and reflected on their special memories made along their journey as husband and wife. Mr and Mrs Debpershad both grew up in Clairwood and later relocated to Montford. They tied the knot at a beautiful and traditional Hindu wedding ceremony held at Lalitha's family home. Speaking to the Rising Sun, about their wedding celebrations, the dashing Debpershad's lovingly said, "It was a beautiful day, filled with lots of love. Even though it was a home function, the celebration was grand. Our wedding day laid the foundation of what the rest of our marriage would be like." The love between Mr and Mrs Debpershad grew in leaps and bounds when they were blessed with four loving children and six beautiful grandchildren. In their spare time, the couple enjoys spending time with their family, singing and cooking. "We believe that the secret to a long and happy marriage is to always love each other and always show that you appreciate the bond that you share with each other," added Mrs Debpershad.

Mr and Mrs Pillay believe that the key to a successful marriage is lots of love.

The couple, who are still in love to this day.

Arena Park sweethearts celebrate 50 years of love

Arena Park sweethearts, Billy and Sathy Pillay celebrated 50 years of pure happiness and love, recently. Mr and Mrs Pillay spent their special day surrounded by their friends and family with lots of laughter and fun. Billy grew up in Malvern while his beautiful wife was raised in Bluff. The lovebirds first laid eyes on each other at a family event and fell in love instantly. They were later married at the Kaje Memorial Hall in Lorne Street. The charming couple attribute their years of bliss to sincerity, honesty, love, care and compassion. The love that they shared grew immensely when they were blessed with five caring children, wonderful sons-in-law, a daughter-in-law and nine grandchildren. In their spare time, the happy couple enjoys watching SunTV and spending time with their loving family. Mr and Mrs Pillay believe that the key to a successful marriage is lots of love. "Every marriage has its challenges but all problems always have a solution. All it needs is constant work on it. It is also important to remember and cherish all of the special moments and memories which you hold dear," said the couple.

Ryan the DJ rocks Red Bull 3Style World Final

Watching Ryan the DJ's performance at the finals of the eighth annual Red Bull 3Style World Final in Krakow, Poland, recently, not only made you get up and dance to his mind-blowing set, it also showcased his extreme talent for the craft and made you feel proud as a South African.

The talented deejay who was born and raised in Newlands West, shared the video on Facebook and it received over 3,900 likes, was shared over 3,400 times and it's still growing.

Describing the moment, the Johannesburg resident said, "It was the most amazing feeling ever. I had a lot of confidence going into the competition but I really don't know what would happen on my qualifier night since I was up against very tough competition.

I was also in a difficult position considering that the grand finale was the day after my qualifying round. At the end, I played my heart out and did it to my best ability." The DJ stood out for his unique sound and impressed the judges with his skills on the decks.

Making it through to the final from over 800 original entrants from over 150 countries was a life changing experience for Ryan. "This has reminded me that you can do anything that you put your mind too. I have been consistent with perfecting my craft as a DJ and all the years of hard work and dedication has paid off. The competition was pretty tough and musically different from our South African national final. I have much confidence in our South African DJs and I do believe that our standard of competition will keep getting better," said Ryan.

He added, "To have been surrounded by all the DJs who I looked up to was an absolute dream come true. I have made so many new friends and gained so much knowledge being out there."

Ryan is no stranger to the DJ world and local clubbing scene. Being in the industry for 15 years, he has played alongside a long list of heavyweights some of whom include DJ Fresh, Euphonik, Roger Goode, Dino Bravo, Mark Stent, and DJ Kent.

His passion for the craft started when he heard a mix on a cassette tape back in the early 90s. "I was amazed at how one track just flowed into the next. I had no clue how this was done or what was used until my elder brother bought a DJ mixer for his 16th birthday. This was when I got my first hands on experience. From there on out, I would watch Ready D on the Phat Joe show, listen to mixes on radio and just get inspired...

the rest is history I guess," he said.

Ryan has played at Ultra, Rocking The Daisies, Oh Ship, Pop Bottles, H2O and Loeries and his achievements include MTN/ECR – Battle of The DJs Champ 2008 (Hip Hop Category), 5FM – Ultimix @ 6 Champ (2012, Red Bull 3Style National Champion (2017) and World Finalist 2018.

Inspired by DJ AM, Craze, A-Trak, Ready D and DJ Jazzy Jeff who he got to meet at the finals as he was a judge, Ryan said that he stays true to himself and his sound. "I think that over the years, people have been able to identify me by the way I mix music or scratch. Every DJ should have a unique sound that people can identify," he said. When asked what he would be doing if he were not a DJ, Ryan said he would be in the Marketing field as he studied it in school.

In his spare time, Ryan joked that you would not find him playing sport, taking a jog or going to the gym, but rather catching up on series and sleep. His future plans are to play events worldwide. "I have put South African DJ culture on the map with Red Bull 3style so now it's all about taking this further, exploring other parts of the world and playing music for good people," he said.

The management and Community Policing Forum of the Bayview SAPS have issued a warning to faith-based organisations to step up security measures following an increase in theft of motor vehicles from places of worship in the Bayview policing area. According to communications officer of the Bayview SAPS, W/O Collin Chetty, vehicle theft has increased, especially on Sunday mornings.

“We have increased our visibility during this time. We request that churches revisit their current security measures ensuring additional car guards, locking of gates during service times, also requesting additional patrols from armed response companies monitoring the premises,” he said.

The inner voice

By Vic Pillay

As would have been expected with the resettlement of thousands of residents, the development of the vast Chatsworth Housing Scheme gave rise to numerous socio-economic problems. The population density of the area worsened the problem. The areas affected more seriously were residents housed in the flats in Bayview and Westcliff.

The flat dwellers of Bayview and Westcliff all qualified for sub-economic housing because the income per household was less than R150 per month. In 1970, the Department of Social Work undertook a survey which indicated that more than 80 percent of the tenants earned less than they required to meet their most basic needs. Social grants given by the State were foreign to Indian households. Poverty, unemployment and inequality were rife among members of the Indian community. The flat dwellers were exposed to social evils which fractured the community greatly.

Community facilities such as parks, halls, crèches, nursery schools, play lots, libraries, and after-care recreation centres did not exist although more than half the population was under 18 years of age. Residents used the narrow roads as soccer and cricket fields while others indulged in indigenous games around the vacant spaces near the flats. Once the schools were built, the grounds at the school became recreation facilities. This removed the danger of children being knocked over by motorists while they were playing on the road. Poverty, deprivation, overcrowding and lack of community facilities added to an area of numerous complex socio-economic problems. Many volunteers from the Chatsworth farming community and other resettled residents who were active in areas where they were forcibly removed came together to form organisations to assist the needy in the community. Local area committees of the Friends of the Sick Association were formed. The Durban Indian Child Welfare Society played a key role to assist families and attend to problems before the formation of the Chatsworth Child Welfare Society. Even religious organisations played an important part in assisting the residents of the flats and adjoining areas who were experiencing problems. The contribution of these volunteers will be the subject of future editions to come.

Some of the activities of volunteer social workers were to give talks/ lectures on improving living conditions of residents and assisting tenants who were in financial difficulties with their arrears rentals. The deviant behaviour of children and young people becoming alcoholics and family discord were also among the many issues tackled by these volunteers.

In the seventies, the University of Durban Westville established the Community Services Association in the Bangladesh area previously known as unit 3B. The establishment of the association had three objectives. Firstly to provide training centre for students in the Department of Social Work, secondly to offer service to the community and thirdly, to demonstrate the need for social work service in sub-economic schemes to be provided by the State.

The students and staff of the university made personal sacrifices to raise funds to establish an office in the flats. Their fundraising continued after the office was established to provide material aid to the residents living in the flats. They assisted in a multitude of activities, including providing assistance to unmarried mothers, the sick and aged, those unemployed, family planning, starting a crèche, seeking extensions to the payment of arrears rentals etc.

It is remarkable to see the progress made by the initial residents of the flats who have moved on to other areas when their children obtained better jobs through education and the residents themselves improving their income and buying houses in the suburbs of Durban. This is a clear example that with initiative and drive, people will progress in life. Although the flats are still there, it has been improved greatly and it is home to many.

Daily counselling offered

Daily counselling will be held for residents experiencing problems in their lives at Bathel Tabernacle situated at 36 Beetle Road, Bayview. For more information, call 031 400-5376.

Alpha and Omega headed the call of social responsibility by donating R10, 000 towards the Shavathon initiative. Seen are the relevant role-players at the cheque handover.

Residents pledge their support at colourful Shavathon fundraiser

Hundreds of residents supported the Shavathon campaign which was held by the Cancer Association of South Africa in conjunction with the Rising Sun Community Newspapers across seven malls, on Saturday. Raising a whopping R52, 036 from shoppers at The Ridge@Shallcross, Take n Pay Westcliff, Chatsworth Centre, Phoenix Plaza, Cornubia Mall, Galleria Mall and Bluff Towers, volunteers and staff of Camford Academy Training College assisted locals in pledging their support by either shaving, spraying or donating their hair in honour of a cancer patient and survivor. Shops including World of Electronics, Manta Travels and Alpha and Omega, all situated at The Ridge@Shallcross, also pledged their support to the initiative with cash donations. The Oasis Group Holdings are yet to announce their cash contribution towards the initiative. An event such as the Cancer Association of South Africa's Shavathon initiative has proven that cancer is not a death sentence, but rather a challenge that can be overcome. Since inception, CANSA's Shavathon initiative has not only united cancer survivors but the community at large, thus earning itself the prestige of being referred to as SA's most exciting and colourful fundraising event. The journey that a cancer patient embarks on upon diagnosis is not an easy one and events such as these prove that SA is definitely a rainbow nation with a big and colourful heart! # School fees must fall

Children are the future of not only this nation, but the world. Children must have foundation learning. This is the basic and standard need of every child. Most parents are in deep need of finance, just for food. Scraping whatever they have to make ends meet. Schools are forcing parents to pay school fees. They are to sign an agreement for parents to pay in installments. If not, parents are handed over to lawyers. Government said free education. That was an unfulfilled promise. Schools have to fit the expenses for the running of the schools. Where is the budget for education? If primary school children cannot study, how can they go to university? How can they say fees must fall? They didn't even complete junior learning. Most children are stopped from going to school because of non-payment of fees. So now school fees must fall. This is just a start for the rights of our children.

Moral degeneration is rife in society

Moral degeneration sees the total breakdown in society. We, as a society, would never believe stealing from religious institutions which is so common these days. Clearly, we are no longer a God-fearing society and this has become more apparent in this latest incident and show we have no moral compass if we now resort to stealing from religious institutions is an all time low indeed. While the action of the thief is unacceptable, another key factor is these unscrupulous scrap dealers who need to be shut down if they ever found with stolen property. They should never be given a licence to trade. I think that this latest incident should also be an eye-opener to temple organisations in particular to not only improve the security but to also recognise that they have a role to play in reaching out to the community to start to deal with issues beyond prayer as this theft is fuelling a substance abuse habit and engaging more with the community in this regard would assist the cause tremendously. While the Malvern police acted swiftly in recovering stolen idols and need to be commended, it is time also for us to see police now address religious gatherings on important issues like crime, abuse and educate the community on what is happening out there as 'knowledge is power' and that is what we need to fight this cancer that is ruining our community.

Is your partner displaying passive-aggressive behaviour?

Passive-aggressive personality disorder is defined as a pervasive pattern of negativistic attitudes and passive resistance to demands for adequate performance in social and occupational situations (DSMIV).

This type of behaviour manifests itself at home in couple relationships, and in the workplace in staff/ manager relations. It can be frustrating for all parties involved and harms relationships and leads to lowered productivity.

The following are characteristics of passive-aggressive behaviour:

- Procrastination
- Sarcasm
- Not talking/ ignoring partner or authority figure
- Withholding intimacy
- Withholding praise
- Being overly critical
- Not carrying out tasks assigned or requested of him or her
- Forgetfulness
- Stubbornness
- Resistance
- Sullenness
- Making excuses
- Shifting blame to others

• Lack of punctuality

While most people display this type of behaviour from time to time, some types of people are more likely to engage in it. People who are afraid of conflict and people with low self-esteem and self-confidence are more likely to behave in a passive-aggressive way.

Some ways to deal with passive-aggressive personalities:

1. Recognise the condition by its symptoms. Inform the person about the hostility of his or her behaviour. Clarify exactly what your expectations of the person are and what are not.
2. Establish protocols such as disciplinary measures in the workplace. Establish mutual expectations and consequences in couple relationships.
3. In addressing the passive-aggressive person, do not talk generally but specifically. Keep records of incidents in details and confront the individual with them.

Communication can be assertive but respectful. Be a good listener but do not continue to accept passive-aggressive behaviour. By absorbing this negative energy, you can become resentful, angry and aggressive yourself.

Random act of kindness brings joy to children at ABH

The Chatsworth SAPS team participated in a fun day at the Aryan Benevolent Home in Arena Park, recently. The special day of fun was sponsored by the Tyrone Pillay of TDC Events as well as Thavie Moodley of Thavie's Towlines. Pillay, together with his family members had a desire to bring love and laughter to the children, who reside at the home. He said that the objective of hosting the event was an opportunity for ordinary people to serve and give others happiness, especially to children at the home.

"We wanted to create renewed hope for a better future for the children, who are our future leaders. Father of the nation, Nelson Mandela once said, 'What counts in life is not the mere fact that we have lived. It is what difference we have made to the lives of others will determine the significance of the life we lead," he said.

In partnership, the Chatsworth SAPS, the Chatsworth Fire Department, as well as the eThekweni Horse Unit held different displays at the event bringing joy to the children.

Communications officer of Chatsworth SAPS, Cpt Cheryl Pillay, addressed children on safety issues and pledged the commitment of the police to keep them safe.

"As ambassadors of the South African Police Service, we pledge to support and participate in nation building programmes with the youth in our society. This random act of kindness will be embedded in the hearts of the children," she added.

Station commander of the Chatsworth Fire Department, Superintendent Cameron Oaks, addressed the children on safety issues also allowing the children to enjoy a foam display much to their delight.

The Chatsworth SAPS thanks all role-players for leaving beautiful imprints of love and support to the children.

Chatsworth hip-hop band on a mission to empower youngsters

Chatsworth bred hip-hop band, Luc N Trino will be touring several local high schools as a way to motivate pupils to focus on their studies and encourage them to nurture their talents.

The group took the musical scene in Johannesburg by storm and accredit their success to determination and perseverance.

The talented artists explained that the tour will commence at the beginning of April. They are appealing to the community for sponsorships or funding of a high school. "Our main objective for this tour is to motivate pupils to focus on their studies and also enlighten them about life after high school. We also wish to show pupils that they can also use their talent to change their lives. During the programme, we will also invite a speaker to engage with the pupils and if we get the necessary sponsorship, we would also like to have a quiz competition and have prizes to be won. Then there will be three local artists to entertain the pupils too," they said.

"The reason why we need the funding or sponsorship is because we require assistance with the sound for the event, transportation of the sound and prizes to be won by the pupils and also refreshments for the performing acts. We feel like this is long overdue for the community of Chatsworth, because our community has a high level of drug addicts and school dropouts. We believe that this programme will have a positive impact on the well-being of high schools in the area. This will be a non-profit initiative, which will assist youngsters of Chatsworth," they added. Luc N Trino thanks all of their generous sponsors for their contributions and support.

Luc N Trino are on a mission to motivate youngsters throughout Chatsworth.

Entertainers wanted for 'Rain Dance'

All systems are in place for an exciting event to collect water for organisations that work with disadvantaged children and pensioners in Cape Town, and to educate local communities on the need to save water.

Called 'The Rain Dance', the open-air event will take place on Saturday, March 17, at the Nelson Mandela Community Youth Centre in Chatsworth from 4pm. For the event to be a success, entertainers are needed. The youth centre is calling on bands, singers, musicians, dancers, comedians and drum-circles to perform free of charge. The event is organised by Revolution Motorcycle Club and the youth centre and will be the last day of the campaign to collect water for Cape Town. The event will also feature a musical concert with food stalls, big sound, digital screens and a fun atmosphere. This event is part of the many youth centre activities that will take place this year to celebrate Mandela's 100 year birth anniversary. Every entertainer will receive a certificate acknowledging their participation at this important charity event. For more information, to donate water or to be an entertainer, contact Clive Pillay on 061-429-2574 or Vivian Govender on 082-828-2277.

Croftdene wrestler accepted into international training centre

A Croftdene wrestler hopes to take his talent and passion for wrestling to the next level after he was accepted into 'The Wild Samoan Pro Wrestling Training Centre', recently.

Joshua Jesse Chetty (25), who is better known as 'Joshua The Bull', is extremely proud of his accomplishments and is excited to arrive in Allentown, Pennsylvania. Speaking to the Rising Sun, he said, "I owe my success to God because without him, I would not be here today. I also wish to acknowledge everyone who stood by me. Wrestling has always been my passion. Since I was a child, I enjoyed watching WWE. I would say that I am still a wrestling fan. I still am chasing my dreams as a professional wrestler."

Chetty has also competed in and proved victorious in several local wrestling competitions including the Durban Pro Wrestling tournament which is an inter-provincial championship. He has wrestled on TV on WWP and was the one-time WWP tag team champ together with his partner, Shadow.

Reflecting on his journey to success, Chetty said, "Being accepted in the training centre is both exciting and scary at the same time because this is the most difficult and biggest step in my life. I have always been an athletic person since I was a child. My message to everyone out there is that no matter who you are or where you are from, always chase after your dream. God has placed a dream in your heart, so if it is from God, chase after it. We are all destined for great things. Don't ever listen to negative words. Go for whatever you are passionate about. I believe that if God is all you have, then that's all you need. Never give up. I live by the quote, 'Today I am strong and wiser than I was yesterday'."

In his spare time, the talented youngster enjoys training, bodybuilding and making YouTube videos.

Joshua The Bull.

Khalipha Primary School receives the first of many mobile libraries

Providing youth with the opportunity and resources to read is important as inculcating the importance of reading. In 2017, MANCOSA partnered with the Department of Basic Education and New Africa Education Foundation on the current 'Read-to-Lead' campaign, which was launched four years ago. The 'Read-to-Lead' campaign is an initiative of the Department of Basic Education and serves to promote access to quality reading material and libraries to less fortunate pupils. The initiative aims to improve literacy levels, especially in rural areas, where pupils are at a higher risk of failing. As a private higher education institution, MANCOSA is committed to providing quality education and has committed to donating mobile libraries to schools with limited resources. Teams from MANCOSA and New Africa Education Foundation visited Khalipha Primary School in Umlazi to officially hand over the first mobile library unit, recently. Pupils and teachers were extremely excited upon the team's arrival and expressed their gratitude for receiving the valuable gift. Deputy principal of the school, Ms Zungu said that MANCOSA's contribution to the school would go a long way in helping them address the low literacy levels plaguing pupil progress. Associate director at MANCOSA, Mr Sardiwalla motivated the pupils by stressing the importance of education and emphasising the role of reading in academic development. Sardiwalla also mentioned that MANCOSA planned to donate many more mobile libraries during 2018. The official handover of the mobile library was concluded with a vote of thanks, which was delivered by a pupil from Khalipha Primary. MANCOSA wishes the pupils, teachers and management at Khalipha Primary School all of the very best for the coming year.

MANCOSA representatives officially hand over the mobile library to the principal and teachers of Khalipha Primary School.

Khalipha Primary School pupils express their appreciation to MANCOSA and New Africa Education Foundation for donating the first mobile library.

Guaranteed work experience at Maritime Business Institute

Maritime Business Institute (MBI) is now positioning itself as a leading institute that provides students with work readiness qualifications and guarantees them work experience. MBI is also providing graduates with excellent employment opportunities. Currently, MBI is guaranteeing students work experience for the following qualifications:

- Shipping and logistics
- Human and social studies

These occupational qualifications, which are accredited by the Department of Higher Education's Quality Council for Trades and Occupations (QCTO), include mandatory knowledge as well as practical and work experience modules, as prescribed in these SAQA aligned curriculums. The exciting news is that MBI will be placing 50 of its graduates in gainful employment in the port of Durban from February 2018. More students will be placed in shipping and port-related companies during the course of the year. MBI is ideally situated at its brand new premises opposite Transnet's car terminal, allowing students easy access to the port. Those students with a matric certificate must be aware that they already hold an NQF Level 4 qualification and they should now endeavour to progress to an NQF level 5 qualification and not regress to a lower NQF qualification, for example, a NQF level 2 qualification. By choosing a lower NQF level qualification, like NQF level 2, students run the risk of wasting an additional two years of studying, when they could be employed in this time. CEO of MBI, Jay Ramkissoon said, "Come visit us and we will show you how you could be employed within one year after completing your qualification with us. We have limited spaces for the work readiness occupational qualifications, so students are encouraged to book their place early. Some of these qualifications have a university articulation route. Whether you have failed matric, passed matric or just did not make the university points, we will offer you an adequate solution to put you on the path to gaining a qualification and boosting your employment opportunities." Visit MBI at Durban Campus situated at 62 Bay Terrace (opposite Transnet Car Terminal), South Beach. They can be reached on 031

301-0649. The Richards Bay Campus is situated at AVKN Complex, 41 Dollar Drive and can be contacted on 035 789-1275. The MBI registration fee is R500 and tuition fees are low, with affordable installments. Free Wi-Fi facilities are available. MBI is also giving away bursaries to deserving students.

Twenty-five students of Maritime Business Institute who have been placed in employment in the port of Durban.

As part of Transnet's mandatory medical requirements, an MBI graduate is being tested to be employed in the port by SAMSA accredited occupational health practitioner in a mobile unit outside the Maritime Business Institute.

Audi UK puts price on new A7

Due to arrive in South Africa later this year, Audi has released pricing for the new A7 Sportback in the United Kingdom, providing a hint of what local buyers could possibly expect.

Unveiled in October last year and taking styling hints from both the A8 and Prologue Concept shown at the Los Angeles International Show in 2014, the A7 rides on the same MLB Evo platform as the former, but with dimensions both longer, wider and taller than its predecessor.

As well as being lighter and featuring the same interior as the A8 with notable tech being the 12.3-inch Virtual Cockpit Display, 10.1-inch MMI display and 8.6-inch screen mounted below, the Marc Lichte penned A7 also gets Audi's new Artificial Intelligence system, Parking and Garage Pilot, as well as Audi Connect online service and adaptive driving assist.

In the UK, the A7 will be offered in a choice of two trim levels with notable items on the base Sport consisting of 19-inch alloy wheels, twin leather seats, ambient lighting, Pre-Sense Front Collision Warning with Autonomous Braking, Lane Departure Warning, wireless smartphone charging and MMI Navigation Plus with MMI Touch.

The next step S Line adds auto-levelling Matrix LED headlights with dynamic front and rear indicators, sports suspension, S-Line specific body kit, 20-inch alloy wheels and Alcantara / leather trimmed sports front seats with S-Line detailing. Underneath the bonnet, the A7 will come powered by a single TFSI and TDI engine, both displacing 3.0-litres and six-cylinder, with the former in the newly badged 55 TFSI producing 250 kW and 500 Nm of torque and the latter in the 50 TDI 210 kW and 620 Nm. While top speed for both is limited to 250 km/h, the TFSI will dispatch the 0-100 km/h mark in 5.3 seconds and the TDI in 5.7 seconds.

Unique to the TFSI is a 48-volt electrical system allowing for a mild-hybrid setup, which Audi claims can recoup up to 12 kW of power that would otherwise have been lost when braking. Fuel consumption is a claimed 7.0-litres/100 km with the TDI rated at 5.6 L/100 km. While both models feature the latest adaption of Audi's famed quattro all-wheel drive system, the TFSI sends its amount of twist through a seven-speed S tronic gearbox and the TDI via an eight-speed Tiptronic. So far, Audi has yet to announce a launch date and model pricing for South Africa.

MODEL	PRICE
A7 Sportback 50 TDI Sport Tiptronic	£54 940 (R903 099)
A7 Sportback 55 TFSI Sport S tronic	£55 140 (R906 387)

488 Pista replaces 458 Speciale as newest and fastest V8 Ferrari

Heading to the Geneva Motor Show next month, Ferrari has officially unveiled the much-awaited replacement for the 458 Speciale, the new 488 Pista.

While initially expected to be called GTO, the Pista, denoting the Italian word for 'track', is said to be a road development version of the 488 GTE campaigned in the World Endurance Championship, and as such trims 90 kg off the standard 488's mass for a total dry weight of 1 280 kg. Boasting a blown rear spoiler, updated diffuser, F1-derived S ducts and a new front air intake, Ferrari claims that the Pista can generate 20% more downforce than the standard 488, with additional hidden tech consisting of the magnetorheological suspension, E-Diff, Side Slip Control and the new Ferrari Dynamic Enhancer, an industry first system that automatically adjusts the pressure of the brake calipers.

Like the 488, power for the Pista comes from the same 3.9-litre twin-turbocharged V8, but significantly updated to produce 530 kW and 770 Nm of torque. This means a top speed of 340 km/h and 0-100 km/h in a mere 2.8 seconds. A seven-speed dual-clutch gearbox is entrusted with sending the amount of grunt to the rear wheels.

Pricing for the 488 Pista will likely to be announced at its debut in Geneva on 6 March 2017

End of an era: BMW ends 3-series production at Rosslyn after 35 years

After a production run of 35 years and 1 191 604 units over five generations, local manufacturing of the BMW 3-series officially ended at the German automaker's Rosslyn Plant near Pretoria on February 21st, as attention now moves to assembling the X3 within the coming months.

Part of a R6-billion investment announced back in 2015 followed by further R160-million injection in October last year, the plant is expected to produce between 71 000 to 76 000 X3s annually, making it the highest production run in its history. Until now, South African bound X3 models have been sourced from BMW's Spartanburg, South Carolina Plant in the United States.

"We look back with great pride over an extraordinary career path of the production of the five generations of the BMW 3-series at Plant Rosslyn," BMW Group South Africa and Sub-Saharan Africa CEO Tim Abbot said in a statement.

"Over the years, the development of our production and export programme has been the catalyst for our sustainable growth and contribution to the South African economy. With the imminent production of the new BMW X3, we remain a committed and engaged corporate citizen dedicated to the upliftment of South Africa and its people". According to Plant Rosslyn's Director Stefan Hülsenberg, "Plans to create a centre of production excellence at our plant are well under way with the largest infrastructure upgrade in the history of the facility now completed and staff upskilled in state-of-the-art technologies. Localisation strategies are in progress, and we are confident that the new BMW X3 will be more localised than the BMW 3-series we've produced."

Most affordable Lexus updated

Sean Nurse

It's no secret that hybrid vehicles haven't really taken off in South Africa, but if we're looking towards mobility in the short to medium-term, these types of cars might just be the solution.

Viewed from the side, the updated model retains its rather small 16-inch tyres albeit with newly designed alloy wheels, while a new two-tone option has been made available. This means that one can specify the car with a Titanium and Quartz (white/silver roof), Mercury and Morello (red/black roof) as well as Titanium and Black (black/silver roof) colour combination.

Updated interior

The interior has been mildly updated with a newer 10.3-inch infotainment system complete with navigation replacing the previous seven-inch item. There are also new colour options, but overall, the interior remains very similar and is starting to look dated when compared to more modern Lexus products such as the NX.

Powertrain and driving impression

At the business end of the CT 200h is the familiar 1.8-litre naturally aspirated petrol motor mated with an electric motor. Output is rated at 73kW/142Nm for the petrol motor and 60kW for the electric motor with a combined output of 100kW. The claimed fuel consumption is impressive at 4.1-litres/100km which, if driven gingerly, is likely achievable.

With the two motors working in tandem, it gets off of the line rather well, with a 0-60km/h sprint that surprised. It's at higher speeds where the powertrain still feels a bit strained, but if driven as an urban commuter, the CT works well. Fiddling with the drive mode selector, I found 'Sport' mode to be the easiest to live with, while 'EV' and 'Eco' modes place more emphasis on the use of the electric motor; they also dull the throttle response and make progress more laboured.

I suppose the biggest compliment I could pay the CT in terms of its driving experience is that you're quite isolated from the process. There is a slight drone from the petrol motor coupled to the CVT gearbox when pushing on, but other than that, it's rather silent. If you utilise the car in EV mode, it will only use the electric motor, although driving range is limited, which necessitates the petrol motor being activated to charge the battery again.

Service plan and warranty

The CT 200h comes with a four-year/ 100 000km maintenance plan as well as a four-year/100 000km warranty, while the hybrid battery comes with an eight-year/195 000km warranty.

Freshened-up Subaru Legacy priced

Having announced a series of updates to the Outback range earlier this week, Subaru South Africa has now revealed pricing and spec details for refreshed Legacy.

Revised back in 2016 though mostly with added safety tech, the Legacy now features Subaru's latest corporate looks and gets re-designed front and rear bumpers, C-shaped daytime running LEDs, signature hexagonal grille minus some chrome detailing, new cladding for the foglight surrounds, turbine styled 18-inch alloy wheels, new side mirrors with integrated LED indicators, a left-hand side camera, faux diffuser and choice of two new colours; Magnetite Gray Metallic and Crimson Red Pearl.

Like the Outback, the interior has also undergone a makeover and benefits from a seven-inch touchscreen display with Bluetooth, satellite navigation, Apple CarPlay and Android Auto, upgraded materials, new gloss black and silver inserts, revised onboard computer display and dual-zone climate control switches, and a new leather wrapped multi-function steering wheel.

On the safety front, the Legacy now joins the XV and Outback in receiving Subaru's EyeSight range of driver assistance system, consisting of steering responsive headlights, Rear Cross Traffic Alert, Blind Spot Detection, front and rear camera, Adaptive Cruise Control, Pre-Collision Braking, Lane Departure Warning, Pre-Collision Throttle Management and Sway Warning.

No changes have however been made up front where the Legacy retains its 191 kW / 350 Nm 3.6-litre Boxer flat-six petrol engine, mated to a seven-step CVT gearbox and sending the amount of twist to all four wheels via Subaru's rally-derived Symmetrical All-Wheel Drive system which also includes Torque Vectoring.

A five year / 150 000 km warranty and three-year / 75 000 km service plan are included in the Legacy 3.6 RS-ES' asking price of R619 000.

Thousands expected at Flash Entertainers mega show

Thousands of loyal fans are expected to attend the Flash Entertainers mega show which will take place at the Durban City Hall as this historic event will mark the beginning of their 50th anniversary celebrations. The stage is set for the much-awaited Chutney, Nagara and Sarangi Mega Show on Saturday, March 3 at 8pm.

Organised by the South African Hindu Dharma Sabha in aid of its noble 'Feed the Hungry' project, this show promises to be a traditional Hindi folk music and dance extravaganza.

Flash Entertainers, who have enthralled huge crowds since 1968, will perform all their spicy hot favourite songs with scintillating dances and fabulous music. A special song will be dedicated to the late great Mickey Kalawan, who founded Flash Entertainers 50 years ago along with school principal and violinist, Haridwal Soobhug.

Mickey who was then only 19-years-old played the nagara drums brought by his great grandfather, Jagundhan, on the Truro ship in 1860 from India.

Also ready to rock the crowd is the awesome Nagara Stars of Phoenix famous for their cute dancers, vibey songs and music excellence.

The star-studded line-up will also include internationally-acclaimed guru, Abeydhanand Beejan who will belt out vintage, melodious and magical Bhojpuri songs. For those culture lovers who miss the Sarangi music widely played in the good old days, Saraswathie Vibrations Sarangi Sensation based in Newlands West will set the stage and crowd abuzz with excitement and delight. Do not miss this once-in-a-lifetime culturally enjoyable experience. For more information, contact the president, Ram Maharaj on 071-554-4181.

Get in touch with eThekweni's mayor on newly launched toll-free number

It was a historic day for eThekweni as mayor, Cllr Zandile Gumede launched the city's first integrated toll-free customer service contact number on Monday. The newly launched toll free numbers are 080-311-11-11 and 031 322 8200 (mayoral hotline number).

Addressing Amakhosi, church leaders, business representatives, municipal officials, media, councillors and other officials, she said this one number and the mayoral hotline are a direct response to the people's needs so that all citizens can enjoy a high quality of life with equal opportunities, in a city that they are truly proud of. In line with the city's vision and in trying to meet the people's needs, the municipality is currently reviewing its Customer Relations Management Strategy with the aim of being more responsive, efficient and consistent in the services delivered to the eThekweni community.

The first number is for any queries relating to water, revenue, and electricity or to contact the city's switchboard. The number is toll-free from any landline or cellphone and will be operational 24 hours.

The mayoral hotline is open to the public and is for the citizen, who has exhausted all other processes of logging a complaint, requesting a service. It is the last resort when all other avenues have failed. The office is already operational with a staff compliment of 10 trained people and operates on 12 lines currently.

Further to integrating customer service, the municipality will be looking at more convenient technologically appropriate and cost effective interventions that will move the city a little closer to being a 'smart city'. In the pipeline is the new municipal mobile app. This app will allow a live interaction between the municipality and citizens to do various things such as to log water and electricity faults, check statements, events, weather and traffic. Gumede said, "We will also have eThekweni Municipality TV which will be at the walk-in centres, displaying information such as services offered and any notices."

DFF mentorship programme designers selected

As part of the fashion development programme, which is proudly supported by eThekweni Municipality, the journey for 2018 kicked off with the showcasing of talented designer creations in the hope of securing a place on the catwalk during the fashion week, at the Durban Fashion Fair which takes place in August. Recently, the municipality put out a notice to invite designers to participate in the annual fashion mentorship programme, which teaches and guides designers all about the business of fashion and grooms them for the fashion week.

The standard each year gets higher and higher as each designer submits their proposal and creations motivating why they should be selected for this 'once in a lifetime' programme. The Business Support, Tourism and Markets Unit that manages this programme, received a number of applications from within the eThekweni Municipality area and was followed by an intensive interview process and much deliberation amongst the panel of judges. In the end, only 25 students could be selected out of the number of talented designers who were interviewed.

The successful mentorship designers are Aaliya Randaree, Ande Gibixego, Aphelele Chonco, Bongwiwe Madubela, Cari Mare St Quentin, Elaine Mulder, Hayley Richards, Khulekani Sithole, Mfundo Dlamini, Mnotho Ngema, Nomusa Nxasana, Nthabi Tseeke, Pearlene Reddy, Philile Mungwe, Prince Nsiband, Sbonelo Sosibo, Sibusiso Shozi, Sicelinhlanhla Ngcobo, Sicelo Dlezi, Sinethemba Nduli, Siyathokoza Zulu, Thabani Khawula, Wilson Kukeya, Xoliswa Mnguni and Zama Ntshangase.

Spoil your furry friend on 'International Love Your Pet Day'

International Love your Pet Day is celebrated annually on February 20 and has been set aside to give our four-legged friends the extra love and attention they deserve. Adele du Toit, spokesman for the SA Rooibos Council explained why SA's indigenous wonder-plant, rooibos, should be part of the pamper. "Rooibos is wonderfully nutritious and serves as a natural prevention and remedy for many ailments that plague pets. Research shows that the tea can soothe skin irritations and help improve dermatological conditions such as eczema, psoriasis, acne and dermatitis, because of its high level of flavonoids, which encourage the body to destroy unwanted pathogens," said du Toit. Another advantage is that rooibos is hypoallergenic, anti-inflammatory and anti-bacterial, which means it can be used on the most sensitive of skin types and can treat and alleviate inflamed skin and bacterial infections too. "It's also packed with important minerals and vitamins that promote healthy skin, such as zinc and vitamin D; is caffeine-free and contains no harmful chemicals or preservatives," explained du Toit. Paul Jacobson, a well-known pet food nutritionist and owner of a popular range of healthy pet food and natural remedies – can vouch for rooibos' healing potential. "Rooibos is one of the most sought-after herbal teas not only because of its high level of antioxidants, but because of its alkalising benefits too. That's why rooibos is a core ingredient in most of our lines. When it comes to the health of your pets, it's vital to ensure the right pH balance. An alkaline environment allows your pets' organs, tissues and immune system to thrive," he said. When cats and dogs have a skin irritation or redness, owners often rush out to buy chemical-based shampoos and soaps which could worsen the problem. By bathing your pet in a solution of rooibos you can relieve the itchiness and prevent the onset of eczema and other mild skin problems. "Pets can also benefit from rooibos' health-giving properties by simply pouring it over their food," recommended Jacobson. Another advocate for holistic treatments, Beryl Shuttleworth, a qualified biochemist, zoologist and founder of an innovative range of herbal supplements for horses and pets, said the variety of vitamins, antioxidants and bioflavonoids make rooibos an unparalleled everyday supplement that slows down the ageing process and reduces the risk of diabetes, heart disease and potentially, even cancer. "Rooibos can be given externally or internally to treat dry, itchy, irritated skin in horses, dogs and cats. Externally a rooibos cream can be applied to the problem area to soothe and protect the skin. Taken internally, the bioflavonoids in rooibos have a potent anti-itch effect," said Shuttleworth. In response to why natural products, such as rooibos should be considered over conventional treatments, Shuttleworth said the latter typically contains one molecule. "A natural product such as rooibos contains many different molecules which work together to produce the desired effect. Plants are often just as effective and far safer than conventional medicine," she remarked. For a royal rooibos pamper, look out for rooibos dog biscuits, shampoos, oils and the like that are available at most pet stores or supermarkets to give your pup a truly royal pamper! For pets who are suffering from allergies, irritated paws and other common ailments, here are a few tried and tested rooibos remedies recommended by experts and pet-lovers from around the country:

your pet's paws for at least 30 seconds in a bowl, basin or bath of rooibos tea. This will reduce discomfort and help to treat symptoms. Gently pat paws dry and avoid rubbing them as this can cause irritation.

Eczema, itchy and inflamed skin: Mosquito and flea bites can cause itching and in severe cases, allergies, hair loss and open wounds from your pet's continual scratching. Either bath or rinse affected skin areas in brewed rooibos tea or apply cooled rooibos on the affected area with cotton wool or a facecloth or place it in a spray bottle and spray the affected area frequently. Also ask your local vet or pet shop about the various anti-itch rooibos skincare ranges that are available.

Appetite woes: Dog-lovers have also reported the appetite-enhancing effect that rooibos has had on their dogs. Pour cooled red or green rooibos tea into your pet's water bowl daily to ensure they get a good dose of its goodness on the inside too.

Hair loss: Independent research by Cosmetochem International Ltd in France confirmed that using rooibos on hair can improve not only general hair growth, but also the overall condition of hair. Many pet-lovers have shared their stories about how their pets' coats/hair shine after regular use of rooibos. Look out for rooibos enriched shampoos or lotions.

Eye allergies: Place two rooibos tea bags in a teapot of hot water and allow to steep for about 15 minutes. Once cooled, use the tea as a soothing rinse to treat your pet's itchy, red and sensitive eyes or soak a cotton ball in rooibos and wipe eyes.

Irritated paws: For allergies or yeast infections of the paw, soak

All systems go for open netball day

In an effort to create sports awareness and uplift the community, the Chatsworth Netball Union in association with the Chatsworth Motor Club will host an exciting open netball day on Sunday, March 25 at the Chatsworth Netball Court. PRO of the netball club, Lully Chetty explained that CNU is getting ready to kick off their 2018 season soon. "We therefore urge all netball players to get themselves in readiness for this season as we intend to commence earlier than normal in order to keep up with our mother body, eThekweni Metro Netball Federation," said Chetty. New teams are encouraged to join as well. The aim of the open day is to bring in strength and unity within Chatsworth and surrounding areas. "We also encourage teams who want to play on a social basis to attend. Being one of the few female dominated sports codes in Chatsworth, we want to encourage more female participation to keep sport alive and at the same time, give the ladies an opportunity to keep fit and have fun in the process," added Chetty. In addition, their league games are played on a Saturday afternoon starting from 1:15pm and concluding at 4pm. The club also runs a junior league in the age categories of under 11, under 13 and under 15. "We would like to introduce an under 17 this season if there is enough interest shown in this category. We urge schools and parents to get involved and form teams in the respective age categories and register to our league. The junior division games

Chairman of the Chatsworth Motor Club, Selvan Moodley and PRO of the Chatsworth Netball Union, Lully Chetty are looking forward to the open day.

Help for families with alcoholics

Residents with a family member, who has a problem with alcohol, are encouraged to join the Al-Anon Family Group that meets on Wednesdays from 10am to 11am at the Nelson Mandela Community Youth Centre. Al-Anon Family Groups are a fellowship of relatives and friends of alcoholics who share their experience, strength and hope in order to solve their common problems. A member of the group who chose to remain anonymous said, "Our personal situations may be different, but we share as equals because of what we have in common. Our lives have been affected by another person's drinking. Al-Anon is a mutual support group." The member said that they can find understanding and support when they share their common experience with each other.

"Some of us are here because a spouse or partner has struggled with alcoholism. For others, the problem drinker is a parent, child, or grandchild. Sometimes, a brother, a sister, or some other friend or relative brings us to Al-Anon. Many of us have had more than one alcoholic family member or friend," the member explained. The anonymous member added, "Alcoholism has similar effects on us all, even though our relationships to the alcoholic may be different. Many newcomers are most interested in hearing about situations and relationships that are similar to their own. Over time, however, we come to understand that we can benefit from hearing how the Al-Anon principles worked in many different circumstances."

Anti-Drug Forum- a beacon of hope and support

The Anti-Drug Forum Centre, situated at 17 Trisula Avenue, Arena Park, has seen numerous members of the community seeking assistance from substance abuse since opening its doors. The centre's holistic multi-disciplinary approach to rehabilitation has seen successful among those who are committed to ridding themselves of drug addiction. The support group sessions are held every Saturday from 9am to 10am at the ADF Centre. Sam Pillay, director of the Anti Drug Form said, "Support group therapy is an integral and essential component of the rehabilitation process. All those seeking rehabilitation and those who are in rehabilitation are urged to attend the Saturday morning support group therapy sessions which are held every week at the ADF centre to ensure that relapse is prevented." The support group is conducted by experienced social workers for those patients in recovery or seeking rehabilitation and the support system of the patient which may consist of parents, siblings, friends and caregivers. It must be noted that those persons in recovery have a better chance of staying drug-free when they are surrounded by supportive caregivers. "Support group sessions also offer the person in rehabilitation a platform to come to terms with what drugs have done to his or her life. Patients accept and understand how they have messed up their lives and the grief they have caused those who love them and themselves," he explained. The topics dealt with at the sessions are specific to mind set of the patient in recovery and empowers them with knowledge and coping mechanisms to deal with the conflicting emotions they are experiencing. "Attending the group therapy sessions is an essential element of rehabilitation and in the years of the ADF's existence, we have found that a non-attendance of the support group often results in the relapse of the patient. We all are aware of the escalation of drug addiction within our society. We urge all parents and caregivers to attend these integral sessions. I also call on all those who have attended the programme in the past years and now have stopped, to return even if you have relapsed. Help is available to all those who are committed to rehabilitation," added Pillay. For more information, call 031 404-6993.

Bronze Bream have been biting well on the South Coast and good fishing can be expected at the upcoming Bronze Bream Classic at the Bluff Military Base next month. Offshore anglers have reported

Melvin Govender with a huge Blackfin Shark he caught off Cuttings Beach in Merebank

Couta in the 5kg to 6kg range. Dorado have been biting well on live baits.
