Man stabbed in botched hijacking

A Mobeni Heights man was allegedly brutally stabbed during a botched hijacking on Havenside Drive, on Wednesday.

Members of the eThekweni Inner South Task Team recovered the hijacked vehicle, a blood stained Toyota Yaris, after the driver of the vehicle was stabbed numerous times in the abdomen by the hijacker.

Communications officer of the eThekweni Inner South Task Team, Priya Nunkumar, said that it is alleged that the 23-year-old driver offered a lift to the suspect when a struggle occurred between the suspect and victim. The suspect pulled out a knife and stabbed the man.

"The victim was found on the side of the road with severe stab wounds by members of the police and was taken to RK Khan Hospital. Members of the eThekweni Inner South Task Team recovered the hijacked vehicle after the hijacking suspect had abandoned the vehicle close by," she added.

The car that was allegedly hijacked.

Commander of the eThekweni Inner South Cluster, Maj Gen Nunkumar, commended the police members on recovering the vehicle. "We will be working around the clock to ensure the arrest of the suspect," he said.

Founders and long-time serving members of the Mobeni Heights Civic Association at the cake cutting ceremony.

50 years of dedication and community service

The flame that was lit more than five decades ago by the community of Mobeni Heights still burns bright as ever, fueled by the love, dedication and commitment to the Mobeni Heights Civic Association. In order to pay tribute to these selfless stalwarts and individuals, who have contributed in uplifting the community over the years, the Mobeni Heights Civic Association hosted a grand function in their honour at the Doorga Hall in Mobeni Heights on Saturday. The organization, which has been in existence for over 50 years, was established by residents in 1967 and has been the pioneer civic organisation in the larger Chatsworth region. Many great men and women have served the organisation and the community with immense commitment and dedication for a number of years. Some of these members had used their individual properties as a collateral with the municipality to build the Doorga Hall in Mobeni Heights.

Rameshwar Singh holds his collection of spiritual poems.

Pensioner (81) shares his love for poetry

American author, Edgar Allen Poe once said that poetry is the rhythmical creation of beauty in words. This profound quote holds true for an 81-year-old Havenside businessman who has dedicated his life to writing poems based on his life and his spiritual transformation in his career. Rameshwar Singh, a father of four, said that he was inspired by his late wife to write poems. Speaking to the Rising Sun, the Havenside resident spoke fondly about his illustrious career and life of being both a businessman and a poet. "I always had a passion for writing from an early age and my dad played a tremendous role in my childhood. He always encouraged us to invest our time in educational aspects. After completing matric, I studied to be an accountant and soon after, pursued career in business and management. In 1968, my dad passed away and I managed to express my feelings through poetry," he said.

The talented and exuberant poet has written many spiritual and uplifting poems. One of his favorite poems is 'The Love of God Krishna'. In the beautifully written poem, he motivates people to always seek God first.

"I draw my inspiration from God who has given me the strength and knowledge to overcome all my challenges and obstacles that I have faced throughout my life. After losing my beautiful wife, the only thing that could ease my mind was to write poems. The writing and words came naturally to me and showed me that even broken hearts can heal," he said.

Singh also enjoys gardening and spending time with his children who bring out the best in him. "My message to youngsters is to always follow your heart and study hard so that you can achieve all your goals and aspirations," he concluded.

Devan Pillay, a community stalwart, addressed residents at the event.

The residents marched to the Chatsworth SAPS and handed over a memorandum calling for the president's resignation.

Chatsworth residents support 'Anti-Zuma' march

Residents from the Chatsworth area joined the nation-wide 'Anti-Zuma' march, on Friday. The march, calling for the controversial and embattled Jacob Zuma to step down from his position as president of South Africa, began just after 9:30am at the Shri Vishnu Temple in Arena Park. Residents proceeded to the Chatsworth SAPS and continued the march back to the temple. Residents with disabilities from the Fatima Mayet Cheshire Village also showed their support. Active involvement and planned demonstrations around the country follows the controversial cabinet reshuffle and the country's downgrade to junk status. Only a few peaceful protesters totalling about 200 people, mostly the religious sector marched to the Chatsworth SAPS and handed a memorandum calling for the president's resignation.

A long serving member of the Chatsworth community, who lives in Arena Park, said that it was a sad day for Chatsworth. The pensioner said, "Chatsworth had received an overwhelming support from the DA and not a single councillor was present at the march. I understand that the provincial march was in Durban but they should at least have a few local councillors to represent a population of more than 300, 000 rate payers and tax payers. It was very disappointing. Our people must show their solidarity and unite as a nation."

Havenside father appears in Durban court for double rape

The Havenside man, who was charged with raping his two minor daughters, appeared briefly in the Durban Regional Court, on Monday. According to regional communications manager of the National Prosecuting Authority, Natasha Kara, the matter was adjourned to May 3 for further investigations. A few weeks ago, the man's schedule six bail application swung in the favour of the state after Magistrate ZE Zondi declined the 50-year-old bail at the Chatsworth Magistrate's Court.

Visiting scholar praises cultural preservation

During a whirlwind tour of Chatsworth and surrounding areas, doctoral research scholar from New Delhi, India, Jayanthi Ramasamy, was pleasantly surprised at how well Indians in South Africa have preserved their religious and cultural heritage. Ramasamy, who is pursuing a PhD at the Centre for African Studies at the School of International Studies at Jawaharlal Nehru University, is researching the political and economic role of the Indian diaspora in South Africa from 1948 to 2013. During her short visit, she met and interviewed leading business people and political leaders such as Swaminathan Gounden, and academics such as Dr Ashwin Desai and Professor Pratap Kumar. "It is quite impressive how more than 150 years after arriving in South Africa, the Indian community has managed to strongly preserve its rich religious and cultural heritage. "I was taken aback by the number of temples, mosques and churches as well as the scores of cultural organisations that are doing great work. Even more noteworthy are the great strides made by the descendants of ordinary indentured labourers who have placed high emphasis on education and are today leaders in commerce and industry," she said. She was full of praise for the Merebank Tamil School Society for its contribution to the preservation and propagation of the Tamil language. While in Chatsworth, she also visited the Hare Krishna Temple, the Bangladesh Market and a few temples. On Sunday, she attended a memorial service for the late struggle stalwart, Ahmed Kathrada in Durban.

If you wish to share your thoughts with Ms Ramasamy, she may be contacted on 072-321-7857 until Friday April 14.

For the record

Following last week's article headlined, 'Land invasion concerns addressed', the Moorton Community Development Forum (MCDF) confirmed that Cyril Naidu is not the leader of the forum, but in fact is a resident who attends regular monthly committee meetings which are held every third Tuesday of each month. The MCDF was not a part of the motor rally referred to in the article. The motor rally was held by concerned Moorton residents to address and curb the illegal dwellings mushrooming in their area.

Westcliff bush-knife attack victim speaks out

"There was blood everywhere. I did not know if my family and I will survive the brutal attack." The father-in-law of the Westcliff man, who went on an alleged rampage and attacked him, his wife, daughter and grandchild with a bush-knife, said he thanks God for saving him and his family during the horrific attack at his home in Greenvale Avenue, last Monday.

Alan Govender (58) explained how the incident unfolded. "My son-in-law, Shalendra Singh (34) fetched his six-year-old son a few hours before the horrific attack. The child spent some time with him and the altercation occurred after he returned to our home with my grandson," Govender confirmed.

"When my daughter, Denise and I got home from the Chatsworth Centre, she went to the toilet and I went to lie down. I saw a shadow and asked my wife to check around the yard if there was anyone there. I suddenly heard screaming and before I could get out of bed, Shalendra was in my room and attacked me with the bush-knife," said Govender.

It is alleged that Singh attacked his 54-year-old mother-in-law, Reena, and his son, before attacking Govender. According to Govender, Reena was chopped three times on her head and also has open wounds on her hands, legs, neck, back and fingers.

"After he chopped me, he looked for my daughter. She was in the toilet at the time. He broke down the toilet door and attacked her. She has severe injuries and was chopped twice on her head, and on her hands and legs. Her skull is also fractured," added Govender, who works as a yard supervisor at a transport company.

Singh slit his own throat and succumbed to his injuries at a local hospital. The distraught father-in-law said he suffers from cancer and he believes that Singh took advantage of the fact that he was ill when he premeditated the attack.

"My daughter and Shalendra were together for about 10 years and they separated a year ago. He was always problematic and my daughter was assaulted and abused by him for the duration of their relationship. Last week would have been the final hearing for a pending case regarding him threatening my daughter with a firearm. We thank God that police took his firearm away because he would have killed everyone who was in the house and turned the gun on himself if the gun was still in his possession," he added. Communications officer of the Chatsworth SAPS, Cpt Cheryl Pillay, issued a statement confirming the incident. "It is alleged that the man visited the home of his estranged wife where an altercation occurred. The man became violent and chopped his wife and two other adults at their home. His six-year-old child was also injured. He then stabbed himself. He was taken to a local hospital where he succumbed to his injuries. The victims were taken to a local hospital where they remain in a stable condition," added Cpt Pillay. An inquest and attempted murder docket are being investigated at the Chatsworth SAPS.

Residents on high alert following land invasion threats

Residents of Chatsworth need to be on high alert after land invaders threatened to forcefully occupy neighbourhoods throughout the area. "We are forced to live like watchdogs," said concerned Marsha Crescent resident, Mona Naidoo.

"Our parents came into this area almost 45 years ago and we love this neighbourhood and do not want to relocate. However, I am deeply concerned about our property value decreasing. Our safety and hygiene is also threatened. Government should allocate homes for these people. While we are sympathetic, we need protect ourselves and our families," added Naidoo.

Meanwhile, another resident said that land invaders have brought a once separated community together to become united. "On Human Rights Day, residents began to mark the area in Crossmoor. This prompted Crossmoor and Moorton residents to join and form neighbourhood watch groups," said the resident.

Another resident who wished to remain anonymous in fear of her safety said, "If we do not act now in stopping the shacks mushrooming in Chatsworth, the area will become a shack town and the properties will not hold any value."

Book captures Fatima Meer's legacy

Friends and family of late freedom fighter, Fatima Meer, attended the launch of her book entitled, 'Fatima Meer: Memories of Love and Struggle,' at the Kille Campbell Library at UKZN on Tuesday. The book was edited by her daughter, Shamim, and was published by Kwela Books and released in March 2017.

The book tells of her life from the age of 17 after she catapulted herself into the struggle of resisting racism and social injustices.

In the book, she opens up and shares a very intimate recollection of her life stories as well as the passion and love she shared for her family and the people. Meer speaks of the highs and lows of her life where she shares her great accomplishments and regrets. In this book, readers get to intimately learn about the author and what a rebellious revolutionary activist she was. Meer was against corruption and always supported the truth. The Sydenham resident started writing the manuscript for her book in 2000. She then suffered a stroke in 2002 which delayed the process. She worked on the book till 2008 and when she passed away in 2010, her daughter assisted in compiling, editing and putting the book into shape with the assistance from Ramesh Harcharan.

Her book is an inspiration and was described as a labour of love by her daughter. She added that it was also an emotional process capturing her mother's legacy.

A 'wave' of accomplishments for young swimmer

Nine-year-old Norisha Reddy has obtained a 'wave' of accomplishments since she began her swimming career three years ago.

The Dawnridge Primary School pupil dove straight into swimming as form of relief for her asthma. She soon became very enthusiastic and passionate about swimming.

The Croftdene Swimming Club member became registered with KwaZulu-Natal Aquatics and participated in the Midmar Mile and completed the race in 47 minutes as well. The youngster became their first swimmer from the club to qualify for level two, winning three gold medals, a silver medal and a bronze medal.

Her mother, Chantal Reddy said that her daughter represented her school in the 2017 Swimming CADSSA event also. "Norisha received five first place medals at the competition, which we are very proud of. Aside from this, she once again stood proud after receiving the 2016/2017 Swimmer of the Year award at the Croftdene Swimming Club's annual swimming gala." The young lass has thanks her dedicated and supportive coaches and her parents who have always assisted her along the way.

Renowned dancer stays true to social commitment

Well-known singer and dancer, Kumari Ambigay, who will turn 70 on April 27, began her birthday celebrations by hosting a feeding scheme at the ABH Saligram Homes in Montford and the ABH Children's Home in Arena Park. Speaking to journalists, the vibrant woman said she believes that giving back to the community is more important than celebrating with friends.

"I thought of celebrating by splurging on a party but then I realised that I should satisfy my true passion of giving back to others by providing the elderly and children of ABH with a sumptuous meal. I hope I inspire others to do the same as a little can go a long way and the spirit of giving can continue," she added.

Kumari Ambigay is seen with some of the residents of the home.

READ THIS IF YOU ARE RETIRED & RECEIVE AN INCOME FROM AN INVESTMENT

Mr Reddy retired four years ago. He invested his Pension Fund money and earns an income. He was concerned that his capital had dropped significantly over the years. He called me to review his policy. After helping him have a better understanding of how his policy worked and advising him of what changes could be made, he was very happy. His capital is now increasing every month - despite him receiving an income. Deciding on an income can be tricky. If you take too much, your capital could reduce. If you take too little, you may not have enough to cover your monthly expenses.

During consultations, I gather important information about you. In addition, I will introduce you to exclusive retirement and investment planning tools. I use all of this to customize a plan that is perfect for you and your family.

I will show you how to grow your capital despite you receiving an income. We will work out an income that will take care of your everyday expenses and allow you to enjoy your retirement. If you are concerned about the markets, I have access to an exclusive range of funds that will give you a guarantee on your capital. # Malvern detectives investigate culpable homicide case

A culpable homicide case is being investigated by detectives at the Malvern SAPS following a collision between a truck and a car at the corner of Hans Dettman and Wiltshire Drive, last week. The driver of the car suffered severe injuries and passed away at the scene.

The vehicle which was involved in the collision.

Other charges opened include failing to stop at a scene of a collision and failing to render assistance at a scene of a collision. Anyone who witnessed the collision is urged to contact W/O Robert Manyoni on 031 489-9627/031 489-9629 or the branch commander, Cpt Khambula on 031 489-9629.

Meanwhile, communications officer of the Malvern SAPS, W/O Marimuthu, urges road users to take note that they have a duty of care to other road users.

“Being alert while driving is a key factor in saving lives. Road users should avoid using their cell-phone as this compromises your movements and can lead to a fatality. A hands free kit is more road and user-friendly. Avoid changing music tracks as this distracts your eye contact with the road. Also avoid driving with head phones on as this shuts out the rest of the world and minimises the blaring of horns and other audio warning signs,” she added.

Station commander of Malvern SAPS, Lt Col Valarine Reddy, also alerted the public on the volume of traffic for the upcoming Easter season and warns road users that the Malvern SAPS has a zero-tolerance approach to road abusers.

“Widespread ‘Arrive Alive’ campaigns will prevail this festive season too. Be alert, be alive, arrive alive and save lives. That is the motto of the Malvern SAPS this Easter,” she added.

Suspects arrested in high speed car chase

Three suspects were arrested following a high speed chase by members of the Malvern SAPS Crime Prevention Unit, recently. The officers, W/O Trevor Raghunandhan, Cst Lavern Gounden and Cst Protas Sibiyi, were commended for the successful arrests.

According to communications officer of the Malvern SAPS, W/O Radhika Murumuthu, the members were patrolling the area when they received an alert of a suspicious vehicle racing away from the Bellair area with a Metro Police vehicle hot in pursuit.

"Malvern officers then raced towards the M7 off-ramp and blocked the exit point. A few minutes later, the vehicle with the three suspects inside, tried to race through the blockade, but was stopped by the members. They searched the vehicle and found a flat screen television, several electronic items, cellphones and a camera. The suspects were unable to state as to where the items had been obtained from. The members, together with the Metro members, Cst Magendren John and Cst Junaid David Moodley, proceeded to the Bellair SAPS, where it was ascertained that the items were taken in a house break-in earlier that day. The suspects have been charged with house break-in and theft," added W/O Marimuthu.

Station commander of the Malvern SAPS, Lt Col Valarine Reddy, commended both the Malvern SAPS Crime Prevention members and the Metro members for their swift response and strategic

R4000 worth of dagga confiscated

Members of the eThekwin Inner South Cluster Task Team apprehended a 42-year-old suspect at his home in Westcliff after he was found in possession of dagga, on Friday. Task Team members were patrolling the area, when they noticed the suspect. Upon searching the suspect, members found dagga to the value of R4,000.

Communications officer of the eThekwin Inner South Cluster Task Team, Priya Nunkumar, said members confiscated 94, 83 grams of loose dagga, 408 sloops of dagga and 12 dagga joints (a street name given to dagga cigarettes). The suspect was charged for being in possession of dagga and will appear in the Chatsworth Magistrate's Court on Monday. Commander of the eThekwin Inner South Cluster, Maj Gen Nunkumar, commended members for their good work.

"Well done to the task team members for being so observant while patrolling and apprehending the suspect before the drugs could be distributed in the streets of Chatsworth," he said.

Who can you trust?

Teachers of today lack the empathy and humanity to deal with children on a daily basis. Growing up, our teachers were our role-models. They were people who children could look up to and trust. My 10-year-old son told his teacher on numerous occasions that an older pupil had been stealing his lunch and bullying him. In the most recent attack, when my son told the teacher, she told him to stop whining and did nothing to stop these incidents. My son then decided he did not want to go to school because he feared for his safety. As a parent, it is deeply upsetting to know that my child does not have the proper care or sympathy from his teacher.

Kathrada's legacy lives on

We cannot exist without a sense of history and the death of Ahmed Kathrada is worth remembering for generations to come 'The struggle icon' has fallen but his legacy lives on. His unwavering morals and values should be an example for our current leadership. It's a pity that President Jacob Zuma has not learnt any lessons from giants like Mandela, Kathrada, Tambo, Sisulu and many others.

At the funeral of his dear friend, Nelson Mandela, Ahmed Kathrada famously said 'My life is in a void and I don't know who to turn to'. Now that you are gone, who do we turn to Uncle Kathy? He stood firm and steadfast on his views, right to the very end.

His plea to recall President Zuma is an indictment of his integrity and character to also place him in the firing line in order to create a better life for ordinary South African. We should be privileged to learn from such a remarkable man. It also begs the question as to whom in our leadership that is going to step up and carry the baton forward. There are still many hurdles in our way and our young democracy is more vulnerable due to the loss of such a great man.

As we look forward to the future, we do with confidence and his legacy will always be remembered by the next generation. His humility and humbleness leaves me with a saying of the great Gandhi, 'Let us all be brave to die the death of a martyr, but let no one lust for martyrdom.'

Speak your mind

By Dr Guru Kistnasamy

With Gordhan gone, who will guard against corruption?

Former finance minister, Pravin Gordhan, was fired on March 30. We all are wondering why Gordhan was removed. After all, he was not involved in any corruption charges.

He did not use state money to build his house. He was not charged for any immoral acts. He did not appoint any members of his family, ethnic group, tribe, or party to any government position. A colleague encapsulated Gordhan in a ditty, "Amidst corruption rife, he lived a simple life with one wife, alas, he's been stabbed in the back with a knife."

Many political analysts predicted that Gordhan will be replaced by fair or foul means. It seems that the latter succeeded much against the will of the people. Propaganda and smear campaigns were initially used to discredit the minister, but they all failed.

The first was an organised rumour that Gordhan falsified his educational qualifications, however, he never did, although many of his colleagues in government did. Another 'leaked' story was that Gordhan was a part of an Indian cabal planning to take over the ANC. This theory also failed. Then the state prosecutor pressed charges against him. These charges were embarrassingly withdrawn because they were baseless.

It was observed that the people behind all these hateful manoeuvres were by now frustrated because all attempts to discredit the finance minister or force him to resign failed. Gordhan still stood tall and could not be bought or intimidated. Finally, when all other moves failed, he was fired on the basis of a so called 'intelligence' report. The 'intelligence' obtained said that Gordhan was planning to overthrow the government of South Africa. How can one man, during one trip, overthrow a government that he and millions fought for over so many years?

The new minister, Malusi Gigaba, and his deputy, Sifiso Buthelezi, share common ties with President Zuma, a commentator wrote. In addition, Gigaba has the distinct honour of having attended a Gupta wedding. A connection with this foreign family from India can be financially lucrative to many in power, concludes the commentator.

Economist, Jammie, declares that Gigaba is a Gupta acolyte. Gordhan blocked the outflow of money to state owned enterprises such as SAA, Eskom, and SABC. These institutions continue to show a deficit of millions of rands because of poor management. The former minister did not readily approve the proposed nuclear project estimated to cost a trillion rands. Will the new minister follow in his footsteps?

It is said that power corrupts and absolute power corrupts absolutely. Let us observe how many incorruptible people stand by Gordhan and can sacrifice lucrative positions in the name of honesty, truth and good governance in the tradition of Mandela.

An Easter surprise for Thandeka Pre-School

Members of the eThekweni Inner South Cluster team visited Thandeka Pre-School in Welbedacht to bring the school an Easter surprise for their fun day, last Thursday. The children were ecstatic as they were handed Easter party packs by the members of the cluster. The officers also spent a few hours bonding with the children of the school, as well as taking photos with them. The project was run by the eThekweni Inner South corporate communications officer, Priya Nunkumar.

“Members of the cluster showed their dedication towards bringing a smile on the little children’s faces and brought in boxes of Easter eggs, as well as donations to purchase more Easter Eggs,” said

Nunkumar.

The 'Easter Surprise' project was a huge success and would have not been possible without the help of the team’s sponsors.

“We are grateful to Frimax Chips and Monopac for their generous donation of chips and juices for the children. We also thank members of the cluster for their donations that were brought in,” she added.

Commander of the eThekweni Inner South Cluster, Maj Gen Nunkumar, expressed his gratitude towards all the sponsors as well as the members who worked together to make the 'Easter Surprise' project a success.

Beauty with a purpose

Durban resident, Zesty Zahra Dada (21) is stepping into the spotlight as an aspiring television presenter, actress and model after graduating as a qualified Branding and Business Management student, recently. The gym fanatic's deep-rooted passion for presenting inspired her to pursue a career in the entertainment industry. In an interview with journalists, she said, "Presenting is the one thing that I have always been very passionate about. It also allows you to meet all sorts of incredible people as well as to see incredible places, which I also love doing." Having a keen eye for fashion trends and completing various modelling courses in Johannesburg has enabled the young lady to further her passion for modelling as well. "I have done a few shoots this year. This includes working with Brand Indya captured by talented photographer Yuvi K as well as other shoots that include one for hair and make-up artist, Sabeha Arbee. I also have many exciting projects that I will be focusing on for this year," she added. Dada added that her goal as a model is to work on various projects and collaborate with local and international brands, later this year.

Zesty Zahra Dada hopes to inspire others.

"I want to enjoy every bit of the journey. Life is an adventure and I plan on enjoying the journey," she said. The traveller explained that she hopes to take her talents globally as well. "I have travelled all across Asia and parts of Europe. I love Europe in the summer and there is nothing more special. My favourite destinations would have to be Dubai, Singapore and London. A really charming city is Bruges and Gent in Belgium where every third store is a Belgian chocolate shop and everyone owns a different type of dog. I definitely hope that my career would be able to take me to these exotic locations," said the 21-year-old.

Although being relatively new in the entertainment industry, the passionate young woman has embarked on various training courses to enhance her craft. These include the Dale Carnegie course, a television presenting course held at the SABC, an acting on-screen course by Jacques Bessenger and Lelia Etebeth and Actorwise by Rajesh Gopi. She is also planning to go abroad later this year to America or Dubai to gain some international experience and also feature in a Bollywood film, which is being filmed in South Africa.

When asked what her advice for aspiring entertainers was, she said, "This is a tough industry, but you have to be even tougher. Every time I do an audition or a gig, it helps to grow my self-confidence a little more. So far it has helped me so much and it has taught me that you truly are the master of your own destiny. If you put in the effort, you can reap in those rewards. Lastly, believe in yourself and have faith in our creator."

Playhouse Company visits Meadowlands Technical High School

Meadowlands Technical High recently hosted the Playhouse Company at the school. All pupils were exposed to a play on petty crime and prison life. Pupils were given examples of criminal activities that are prevalent in society. A large number of pupils were shocked to learn that pilfering of so-called 'petty items' such as pens, erasers and calculators are a pre-cursor to bigger crimes later in life. They were made aware that if you do the crime, you must be willing to do the time. The principal, staff and governing body would like to thank the Playhouse Company for hosting their outreach programme at the school.

Serene excursion for Astra Primary pupils

Astra Primary School pupils enjoyed an informative excursion at the Silverglen Nature Reserve, recently. ## Local soccer player appeals for assistance

A local soccer player is appealing to the relevant authorities to assist in installing proper lighting at a sports ground in the Arena Park vicinity. After not receiving any assistance from the municipality, 30-year-old Yogeshen Moodley hopes that his plea will be heard by others.

He explained that soccer season will begin soon and therefore the proper lighting is essential to his team. "We need the lighting because most of us work and can only practice in the afternoons. All my efforts made thus far have proved futile," he explained.

According to the Montford Sport team member, his soccer team uses the grounds twice a week and they often feel unsafe while training. "The youth of Chatsworth do not have much sporting facilities available to them. They therefore resort to drugs and alcohol and also become unfit. The lighting at our sport grounds is essential to our community," he added.

The South African Police Service, in an effort to curb the sale of stolen property by reducing the market, is calling upon dealers of second-hand goods and pawn brokers to apply for the renewal of their business registration.

Communications officer of the Bayview SAPS, W/O Collin Chetty, said that aggravated robberies were highlighted as one of the problematic crimes during the release of the latest crime statistics.

“Another area of concern is the issue of cable theft which has serious implications on our electricity and telecommunication infrastructure which ultimately impacts on service delivery at large,” he said.

W/O Chetty added that every person who operates a business of dealing in second-hand goods in South Africa, had to apply to be registered under the provisions of the Second Hand Goods Act, 2009 (Act No 6 of 2009).

“All second-hand goods dealers who have registered from May 2012 onwards must note that the five-year registration period is expiring and registration to continue doing business is dealing with second-hand goods must be renewed. The Second-Hand Goods Act, 2009 came into effect on April 30, 2012 to regulate the business of dealers in second-hand goods and pawn brokering,” he added. The following process is applicable to all existing, registered second-hand goods dealers who must renew their registration:

- An application for renewal of registration must be made in terms of section 11 of the Act no more than 180 days and no less than 90 days before the expiry date of the existing registration.

- An application for renewal of registration must be made at the designated second-hand goods officer at the police station in which area the business is currently registered.

- A renewal application must be made on an SAPS 601(e) form – “Application for Renewal as a SHG Dealer/Recycler”. The SAPS 601(e) form must be accompanied by all relevant supporting documents, of which a checklist is available on the SAPS’s website: saps.gov.za.

- A renewal application may only be granted if the dealer/recycler shows that he/she still complies with the requirements of registration in terms of the Act.

- If an SAPS 601(e) renewal application has been lodged within the prescribed period, the registration remains valid until the SAPS 601(e) renewal application is decided on and a new Certificate of Registration has been issued to the second-hand goods dealer.

- Should a registered second-hand goods dealer decide not to apply for renewal, his/her registration will terminate upon the expiry date of the current Registration Certificate and he/she will not be allowed to continue dealing in second-hand goods. Not applying for renewal within the registered timeframe will be regarded as an immediate termination of registration.

- An application for the renewal of registration is free of charge.

Dealers and the community can access the following website: www.saps.gov.za for more information on the Act, as well as relevant application forms and other related material.

Residents living within the Bayview SAPS policing precinct can contact W/O Collin Chetty on 031 405-7234, Nayeem Mahummad on 031 405-7233 or send an email to chettyjaysprem@saps.org.za

Free male circumcision procedures to be conducted

The eThekweni Municipality’s Health Unit, in partnership with various organisations, commenced with a campaign to conduct free medical male circumcision procedures for males over the age of 12 years, during the school holidays.

Circumcision is a safe and hygienic way of reducing the risks of sexually transmitted infections. It results in about 60 percent reduction in the risk of HIV transmission and other life threatening diseases such as cervical cancer in women.

When going for the procedure, patients must bring their South African identity document or birth certificate. Parents bringing their children are also required to bring a form of identification. An affidavit is required if the surname of the minor does not correspond with that of the guardian or parent.

Anyone, who wants to have the procedure done, must visit their nearest clinic for booking prior to the date of the procedure.

Pastor shares the meaning of Easter

This Easter may not be all hot cross buns and Easter eggs bringing all those warm fuzzy feelings inside for you. It can be a difficult time for you, maybe you have recently experienced a financial strain, felt the horrors of rejection or the indescribable pain of losing a loved one, leaving you with unanswered questions. The disciples probably had pressing questions when they saw Jesus upon the cross going through such agony. Why did Jesus have to go through such pain? There are many questions we ask with despair. Will there be justice for the many wrongs man has committed? Is there an absolute definition of love? What does evil look like? And will there be forgiveness? I believe Jesus Christ on the cross answered all these questions. On the cross, God's justice was served, love was displayed, evil was seen for what it is and forgiveness was offered.

Sweeten up your Easter with these desserts

The Easter holidays are around the corner so why not make this time extra sweet and delicious with some of these recipes which are both easy and fun to prepare. We recommend that you enjoy these sweet treats with either a hot beverage or a tall glass of cold milk!

Easter bunny cupcakes:

These cute little cupcakes will be a real crowd-pleaser this Easter. Hop into it and prepare this decadent treat.

You will need:

- 1 to 2 cans vanilla frosting (16 ounces each)
- Green paste food coloring
- Cupcakes and miniature cupcakes of your choice
- Candy-coated sunflower kernels
- Assorted stick chewing gum
- Jumbo heart sprinkles
- Canned chocolate frosting
- Miniature marshmallows
- Corn syrup
- White nonpareils

What you need to do:

Tint desired amount of frosting green. Cut a small hole in the corner of pastry or plastic bag; insert a number four round pastry tip. Fill bag with green frosting; pipe grass onto desired amount of cupcakes. Sprinkle with sunflower kernels.

For bunny faces, pipe white frosting over tops of cupcakes using a number four round pastry tip. Using clean kitchen scissors or a small sharp knife, cut gum into ear shapes of various sizes. Attach smaller centers onto the larger pieces with a small amount of frosting. Pinch base end of each ear, forming a curved shape. Press into tops of cupcakes. Place a heart sprinkle on each cupcake for nose. Using a number two round pastry tip, pipe eyes, whiskers and a mouth on each face with chocolate frosting.

For bunnies, pipe white frosting over remaining cupcakes. Place a miniature cupcake onto a larger cupcake; secure with a toothpick. For a bunny tail, dip a marshmallow in corn syrup; roll in nonpareils. Place on cupcake. Repeat as desired.

Five of the most interesting Easter traditions throughout the world

While children in many countries wake up on Easter morning expecting special candy and Easter eggs, this custom may seem odd to an outsider. There are many fascinating Easter traditions throughout the world and the Rising Sun Community Newspapers thought it would be 'egg-tastic' to highlight some of these customs and traditions. So here they are in no particular order:

In Poland, pouring water on one another is a tradition known as 'Smingus-Dyngus'. On Easter Monday, boys try to drench other people with buckets of water, squirt guns or anything they can get their hands on. Legend points out that girls who get soaked will marry within the year. The refreshing tradition has its origins in the baptism of Polish Prince Mieszko on Easter Monday in 966 AD. In Norway, Easter is such a popular time for Norwegians to read crime novels that publishers actually come out with special 'Easter Thrillers' known as Paaskekrimmen. The tradition is said to have started in 1923 when a book publisher promoted its new crime novel on the front pages of newspapers. The ads resembled news so much that people didn't know it was a publicity stunt. For 130 years, the White House has hosted the Easter Egg Roll on its South Lawn. The main activity involves rolling a coloured hard-boiled egg with a large serving spoon, but now the event boasts many more amusements, like musical groups, an egg hunt, sports and crafts. Taking place in the city where it is believed Jesus was crucified, Israelis commemorate Good Friday by walking the same path Jesus did on the day he was nailed to the cross. Taking note of his pain that fateful day, some of those who participate carry a cross with them in remembrance. On Easter Sunday, many pilgrims attend a church service at Garden Tomb—the area that it is believed Jesus was buried. On the morning of Holy Saturday, the traditional 'Pot Throwing' takes place on the Greek island of Corfu: People throw pots, pans and other earthenware out of their windows, smashing them on the street. Some say the custom derives from the Venetians, who on New Year's Day used to throw out all of their old items. Others believe the throwing of the pots welcomes spring, symbolizing the new crops that will be gathered in the new pots.

One Stop Beauty

Ultrasonic liposuction is a pain free procedure and requires no anesthetic so you can relax and enjoy this relaxing treatment which can be done even in your lunch break. The results are seen in the first session and will improve over the course of four treatments. Fat cells treated with ultrasonic lipo will not return or regrow, insuring a permanent effect. The treatment involves strong ultrasonic heads that release 40,000HZ powerful ultrasonic speedily fatty cells and produces countless vacuum air pockets in and out of the fat cells, causing the membrane to produce an inner crackling. The power of radio frequency will then be used to exhaust the fat cells out through the liver circulation. Lastly, the EMS will to tighten the skin. For a free consultation, contact Christine on 083-677-8686 or 031 402-1024. Treatment is safe and non-evasive.

ple needles) is used to deposit pigment into the skin, creating crisp and feather-like hairstrokes. How it works depends on your natural brows. Most of the time, the artist will follow your natural shape to fill them in and other times it is necessary to create a whole new shape to better suit your facial features. Tattoos usually require a certain pain threshold, but most clients find the procedure rather tolerable. The procedure takes approximately two hours to complete and last between one to two years, varying from person to person. Results will be more positive on dry skin as opposed to oily skin. ## Miracle Collagen works wonders

Having spent almost 20 years as a health practitioner and media personality, I suddenly found myself at the age of 57 in severe pain and lack of mobility in my left knee, right hip and right shoulder.

After searching extensively in SA and overseas for a natural solution, I came across Miracle Collagen and much to my relief, after two weeks of taking Miracle Collagen, my pain was gone. Better still, after four weeks, I was able to exercise again and climb up and down stairs without pain or discomfort. As a health practitioner, I

Beat the common cold with the assistance of your local pharmacist

As the leaves change and chillier weather sets in across the country, certain illnesses rise to their peak and spread throughout schools and workplaces. The common cold is an upper respiratory infection. Colds ordinarily bring nasal congestion, scratchy throats and sneezing and other symptoms depending on the strain. Management- It is wise to try and prevent the onset of colds and allergies but over-the-counter treatment options are available which may alleviate the symptoms. Decongestants - Reduces the swelling of the nasal mucosa, and relieves the feeling of a blocked nose caused by an allergy/cold. These agents may be used locally or orally to relieve nasal congestion. Antihistamines - Can dry up nasal secretions. Intranasal corticosteroids - Mainstay treatment for persistent nasal symptoms. Pharmacists are trained professionals who can advise you on medications suitable for you so that you don't suffer with sneezing, runny nose, post nasal drip, watery and itchy eyes and throats.

Seen is Minority Front leader, Mrs S Thakur Rajbansi together with the chairman of the Montford Senior Citizens, Molly Govender and MF members.

MF leader attends human rights programme

Minority Front leader, Shameen Thakur Rajbansi visited the Montford Senior Citizens for a human rights programme, recently. She addressed the elderly on their rights during the enlightening initiative. Rajbansi spoke to the senior citizens and explained that as a country, we are still battling to uncover ways to deal with equality, unemployment and poverty. "These are the core issues that will play a role in moulding the future of the country. Much progress has been made over the past 23 years, but for human rights and most importantly, equality to be a reality for all, nepotism, corruption and fraud must be expeditiously dealt with by government," she said.

She further stressed that Human Rights Day is not just a day to observe the injustices and discrimination that happened in the past, but also to embrace the fundamentals of human rights, equality for all and cultural diversity in South Africa. The Minority Front leader also emphasised that South Africans should read articles of the United Nation's Universal Declaration of Human Rights. "As a nation, we should be very mindful of the articles contained in the United Nation's Universal Declaration of Human Rights, and use this as motivation to enhance our processes to protect the rights that every citizen is entitled to enjoy," she added.

Yovani Naidoo, Jayendren Kandasamy and Kerolin Govender will be performing at the exciting event.

New BMW 440i packs a velvet punch

Justin Jacobs

I'm a sucker for a two door car which means I quite fancy the BMW 4-Series coupe. I'm not the only one because if you just look around you will notice quite a few of them in parking lots, driveways and on the road. Sitting pretty at the top of the range is the 440i.

When the blue 440i coupe arrived it was dressed in some M-Sport attire. Big wheels, bumpers and sides-skirts all add to the sporty nature of the car. From every angle it looks exactly the same as any other 4-Series coupe wearing its gym clothes however the Eagle-eyed car enthusiast will notice that the 440i has bigger disk brakes and callipers than its siblings. Its only once you move round to the back that you will really know that it's a 440i, because it has one exhaust on either side of the bumper.

Step inside and it's pretty much identical to the 3-Series on which it is based. Now some people have been saying that the interior needs a bit of a refresh, yet I'm not one of them. I think it still looks good and I find the quality to be on par with the competition. I really like the high definition dashboard mounted screen, while the iDrive system is one of the easiest to operate. There are one or two things I will criticise, the instrument panel is dated and the steering wheel just feels far too big.

As for practicality, well it's a two-door coupe so don't expect rear passengers to bask in ample legroom space. As for those in the front, its roomy and the boot is quite large.

Now let's get onto the really good stuff, the performance, something this car has quite a lot of. You see the 440i used to be called the 435i because it featured a 3.0-litre TwinPower turbo straight six engine. Now though it still features a 3.0-litre TwinPower straight six, however it's new, hence the new nomenclature. This all-new aluminium motor known as the B58 develops 240kW and 450Nm of torque. Power is sent to the rear wheels via an eight-speed automatic gearbox. It is however the way in which this car makes use of that power that is the impressive part. The torque is available all across the rev range and the sound it makes reminds me of older 3.0-litre BMW models. Expect to embarrass many a naturally aspirated AMG-C63 and Audi RS5 because that's what I did.

The 440i even put the previous 4.0-litre V8 M3 to shame. As for handling, well it's a BMW so it's pretty good. Throw it into a corner and it sits, its communicative, a drivers car. It is also jam packed with all the fancy driver aids we have come to expect these days. Adjustable driving modes, different traction control settings and a host of safety features such as Lane Keep Assist and active cruise control are available.

The 440i is a good looking car that you can use everyday, no matter the weather. It will take you to work in comfort and if driven with care, which is difficult, will return around 8.0-litres/ 100km. It will also satisfy the performance hungry driver in you. Is it an alternative to an M4 though?

Not at all, the M4 is a different animal, a savage both on the road and track type of animal. It's loud and in your face. The 440i has a different battle, one coming from the Mercedes-AMG C43 and the recently launched Audi S5, both offer more power and four-wheel drive. Get the popcorn because this fight is going to be a good one.

Tyre tips from Michelin

Sean Nurse

Autodealer was recently invited to the Kyalami Grand Prix Circuit for the launch of the Michelin Pilot Sport 4 tyre range.

Not being the sort of publication that offers a free plug without it benefitting our readers, we decided to attend the event and get some useful information in terms of tyre maintenance from a Michelin expert.

We sat down with Quentin Du Plessis who works in the Customer Engineering Services department of Michelin South Africa, and fired off a few questions about tyres and tyre maintenance. We were also curious to find out how one can maximise the lifespan of their tyres.

Making your tyres last "The most important aspects of tyre maintenance and those that will ensure the longevity of your tyres, includes having your wheels balanced, your tyres checked and your wheel alignment done every 10 000-15 000km at a reputable tyre fitment and repair centre," Du Plessis said.

"Remember that tyre pressure is very important when it comes to tyre performance and lifespan, so ensure your tyres are pumped to the correct pressure, depending on manufacturer specification and load requirements" he added.

Tyre wear We then asked him about tyre wear and how one knows when their tyres need replacing. "Every modern tyre has Tread Wear Indicators (TWI) which are small, raised sections placed in different areas around the circumference of the tyre," Du Plessis explained.

"Manufacturers use different symbols, but the principle is the same. When the tread is in-line with the TWI, the tyre needs to be replaced. If you're unsure about the wear on your tyres, regular checks by a tyre fitment centre will give you peace of mind".

Tyres in the rain

This is something that piqued our interest at the launch, as Michelin provided an infographic displaying the benefits of having a tyre that can cope in wet conditions.

"Using our Pilot Sport 4 as an example, we can see that the use of wide and deep longitudinal grooves in the tread pattern allows for the tyre to disperse water, which gives the driver more control in slippery conditions." Du Plessis added.

From what we gathered, the reason why people tend to lose control in wet weather is due to worn-out tyres, inferior quality tyres and in some cases, a lack of experience.

The key with tyres in the rain is the product's ability to remove water from between the tyre on the road, and maintaining the all-important contact patch between the tyre and the black stuff. Without contact with the road, the tyre can't perform its primary function, leaving the driver

The benefit of manufacturer approved tyres

Most vehicles will come with a range of manufacturer- approved tyres that meet the demands and development targets of the vehicle in question. Now if you're like us and find the cost of many premium tyres scary and have questions regarding why this is so, Du Plessis offered an explanation.

"A manufacturer like Michelin spends a large amount of money on research and development, making tyres that perform well in key areas consistently," he concluded.

There are quite a few premium tyre makers on the market and an even larger number of cheaper brands. Our advice, as always, would be to do your research before changing your tyres, see which rubber is recommended for your vehicle, compare the brands and measure the cost versus performance, longevity and most importantly, safety.

Downsized UK-spec Isuzu D-Max (KB) priced

Having debuted in the United Kingdom in February following upgrades in Australia and South Africa, Isuzu has divulged complete pricing details of its revised D-Max pick-up.

Although featuring the same exterior changes as its Aussie sibling and the locally built KB, the D-Max does away with the European specific 120 kW / 400 Nm 2.5-litre twin-turbo diesel for the same BluePower 1.9-litre oil burner used in the MU-X, albeit with a 40 Nm decrease in torque and unchanged power output.

Mated to a six-speed manual or similar ratio automatic gearbox, Isuzu claims the D-Max still retains its 3.5-ton towing capacity and ability to transport up to one-ton despite the smaller engine.

Available in single, extended or double cab configurations, the interior also differs slightly from the KB with the integrated touchscreen infotainment display making way for a seven- or nine-inch freestanding setup, equipped with satellite navigation, Apple CarPlay, Android Auto and DAB+. - Autodealer

ROAD TEST

Renault adds value with Kadjar XP

Sean Nurse

The Renault Kadjar has been a strange product for the French marque. At its national media launch last year, everyone present was convinced it would sell in large quantities. But that hasn't been the case, which is not to say it has been a bad seller, just not quite as good as anticipated.

In any case, as is customary with Renault these days, a limited edition variant of the Kadjar saw the light of day a month or so ago. I had a go in this XP (Experience Points) recently, which also allowed me to experience the more basic Kadjar system, but rather a relatively old-school black-and-white digital display with Bluetooth and USB functionality. There are also cloth-covered seats and a general sense that the Kadjar is a very well built product in terms of materials, perceived quality and driving refinement. However, I must admit I did feel that the car was lacking in the spec department due to the fact that cheaper Renault models offer the same if not better specification as standard. There are features such as a multi-function steering wheel, cruise control, a strange manual air-conditioning system that takes a few minutes to acclimatise to, if you'll pardon the pun, four-speaker sound system and electric windows all round.

Conclusion

The Kadjar XP makes a good case for itself as a lifestyle product with value-added features, however, driving the more basic Kadjar has provided me with a possible answer as to why it hasn't sold quite as well as expected. Renault models such as the Clio, Sandero and Captur are cheaper and admittedly far less spacious but provide better specification per Rand, which shouldn't be the case as the

Warranty and service

The Kadjar range comes standard with a five-year/150 000km mechanical warranty and a five-year/90 000km service plan with service intervals pegged at 15 000km.

Expression variant on which the XP is based. Express yourself The XP was dropped off at the office where its additions immediately became apparent. There's a set roof racks, side steps, a tow bar, 17-inch alloy wheels and cornering fog lamps to differentiate it from other models.

I suppose the benefit of the XP is the fact that the cost for the items fitted are not passed on to the consumer, meaning that for the list price of R364 900, you're getting what Renault claims to be R40 000 worth of extras at no additional cost. For those with an active lifestyle, the XP makes sense as there will now be the possibility of towing up to 1 200kg, placing items such as mountain bikes on the roof racks, as well as tackling light mud and dirt roads thanks to its 200mm of ground clearance.

Powering the XP

The XP is powered by the all-too-familiar 1.2-litre turbo petrol engine with 96kW/205Nm on

tap. As with all models fitted with this motor, there is a discernible amount of turbo lag present as one shifts through the six-speed manual gearbox.

Once the vehicle is up to speed, the powertrain works well, however I must concede that Renault's claimed fuel consumption of 5.7-litres/100km is optimistic to say the least, with my 500km or-so drive resulting in a figure of 8.2-litres/100km. This is mainly because the small motor needs to be kept on the boil most of the time.

Back to basics

It was refreshing to sample a more basic Kadjar as the motoring media are often gifted with highly specified test vehicles, which often gives and over-inflated perception of how good a car really is. This basic model represents more of what the consumer will purchase.

For example, there is no touchscreen infotainment

Limited edition Lotus Evora Sport 410 brings classic F1 livery to the US

Finished in black and gold reminiscent of the John Player Special Team Lotus Formula One cars of the mid-70s and early 80s, the Evora Sport 410 GP Edition is the result of Lotus' in-house Exclusive program and will be limited to just five units priced $110 000 (R1 510 289).

Already billed as the fastest and most focused Evora ever made, the standard Sport 410 uses the regular Evora 400 as a base, but tips the scales at 132 kg less for a total of 1 320 kg or 1 370 kg when fully fuelled and equipped with a range of optional extras.

Powered by the familiar Toyota-derived

3.5-litre supercharged V6 and available with either a six-speed manual or six-speed automatic gearbox, the Sport 410 develops 306 kW and 410 Nm of torque which, combined with the reduction in weight, allows it to reach 100 km/h from rest in 4.1 seconds and on to a top speed of 305 km/h. Aside from the GP Edition, only 150 Evora Sport 410's will be produced with prices starting at the Rand / Dollar equivalent of R1 430 655.

A message of hope and salvation on Good Friday

On this day, two thousand years ago, Jesus Christ, the precious and only begotten son of God, became the sacrifice for our sins, giving his life and dying on the cross. The act of sacrifice serves as an emblem of sin and shame, which is believed by Dhunam Moodley (81) of Montford.

Christians. "For God so loved the world that he gave his only begotten son, Jesus, that whosoever believeth in him shall not perish but have eternal life. For God sent not his son into the world to condemn sinners, but to save," quoted in the Holy Bible, John: Chapter 3: 16 and 17. "Therefore having been justified by faith, we have peace with God through our Lord Jesus Christ," included in Romans 5:1. His cry goes on for all to seek him and no one will be cast out. "Come unto me all ye that are weary and heavy. Laden and I will give you the rest," quoted from the Holy Bible

 Why call this day good? It was good that someone, Jesus, had to die for all mankind or else the whole nation would perish. After his death on the cross, on the third day, he rose triumphant and he now lives forever. "O grave where is thy sting, oh death where is thy victory? The savior of the world is alive! Jesus is alive! Alive for everyone! Believe in the Lord Jesus Christ and thou shall be saved in thine house."

Durban ST Crew reaches out to the needy

The Durban ST Crew, which comprises of a group of courageous men and women, held a heart-warming initiative for those in need, recently. The group, which has a passion for Henry Ford motorsport cars, have shown communities that they love more than just their custom designed engines after they collected and contributed items towards feeding the homeless.

The crew received an outstanding response from communities after their plea for assistance. The courageous individuals exceeded the requirements of a successful donation with the help of founders, admin and sponsors, who attended the collection.

Crew member, Jayd Naidoo said, "The Durban ST Crew was founded in 2014 by Ashveer Shah and members are located all over the suburb of Durban. The group was created to serve as a platform on social media to keep in touch with Ford ST owners."

The group developed into a close knit circle of friends sharing the same passion which started off with 18 members. Today, they have a total of 170 members. "We stay true to Ford's motto which is 'Go Further'. We also pride ourselves in making a difference by avidly supporting social development," added Naidoo.

The organisation's participation in charity drives throughout the year sees the team of ST enthusiasts uniting to address the needs of the community.

The crew hosts and participates in break-fast runs, family fun days and weekend drives to bring the team together and interact with community members.

In an interview with journalists, the excited members added, "Whether participating in charity events or convoying to motor shows, communities can be sure to enjoy the company of open-minded people who are passionate about their brand."

FISHING REPORT

Fishing:

Skate and Shark action has been reported from most of the beaches in the North. Durban anglers got stuck into some good Grunter and Pompano this past week on Sealice and Mussel baits. Some big Sand Sharks were caught on the South Coast. Ski boats are getting good sized Cousta and Tuna but the Snoek action has slowed this week.

Weather:

Expect a mild cold front on Tuesday will moderate South Westerly winds and cool temperatures. Winds on Wednesday will blow North Easterly before another cold front develops on Thursday bringing 30 knot South Westerly winds and some rain. Temperatures will remain cool till the weekend, but seas will be well settled by Saturday.
